Brisbane Annexation Move Is Disputed

The Brisbane City Council ignored a Superior Court restraining order Monday night and instituted proceedings to annex the industrial portion of Bayshore—represented chiefly by Southern Pacific railroad. Hearing date was set for Feb. 11.

The determination of Bayshore City residents to resist the proposed annexation of portions of their area by Brisbane was reiterated by attorney Tom Bocci Tuesday.

"As counsel for the Bayshore City residents we will undertake all efforts necessary to resist the Brisbane land grab," he said. "If necessary we will ask the court to hold the Brisbane councilmen in contempt of court for violating the court's restraining order."

Judge James T. O'Keefe has set Monday, January 14th for hearings in Superior Court on the injunctions issued Monday restraining Brisbane from proceeding with the proposed annexation.

Bocci, a municipal judge of the north San Mateo County judicial district from 1953-58 resides in Daly City and has offices here and in South San Francisco. He expressed strong feeling toward annexing the area to Daly City.

"It is my opinion that the area rightfully belongs to Daly City," he said. "An annexation would extend Daly City's borders from the ocean to the bay, making it one of the ten largest cities in the state."

SSF Elects New Mayor

Vice-Mayor Patrick Ahern was elected Monday night as mayor of South San Francisco for the ensuing year, replacing Leo Ryan, newly-elected 27th District Assemblyman. Ahern is a building contractor and was re-elected to the council in 1962.

Elected to the council to fill a vacancy created by Ryan's resignation was Frank Bertucelli, local service station owner and former chairman of the personnel board. A long-time city resident, Bertucelli's term will expire April, 1964.

Assemblyman Francis Retires

Former Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo expressed his appreciation to his constituents, friends and supporters, as his last act on Monday as state legislator.

After serving four terms in the state legislature, Francis, whose home was reapportioned out of his district by the Democrat majority, did not seek re-election last November. He retired from office on Monday, January 7, and was succeeded by Democrat Leo J. Ryan of South San Francisco.

While in the legislature, Francis led battles for stronger legislation to combat communism and subversion, drunk driving, pornography, and narcotics. In addition, he sponsored and fought for the passage of numerous other state laws in the fields of school construction, tax relief, highways and bridges, administration of justice, aid to the handicapped, and human rights.

Francis, 39, resides at 129 Castilian Way, San Mateo, with his wife, Alice, and four children, Patrick, 13; Michele, 9; Janice, 7; and Mark, 4½. His law offices are at 1415 South El Camino Real in San Mateo.

'We Want More Industry,' Says Brisbane Mayor

"We expect and hope to be an industrial town," John Turner, mayor of Brisbane, told Bayshore City residents at the Monday night Brisbane council meeting.

Turner said he had been "needed" by some people as to why the city of Brisbane went ahead with annexation plans of Bayshore industrial lands without consulting the people of Bayshore City.

"I told them if I had that all our efforts would have gone down the drain," Mrs. Kenneth Pack, a member of the newly-formed Bayshore Citizens Association, said. "Maybe if you had asked the Bayshore City residents to come in they wouldn't be angry."

Turner stated that "anyone living in an unincorporated area (such as Bayshore City) only owns the ground they have invested in."

Local March Of Dimes Silver Anniversary Drive Under Way

An urgent appeal to "mail in your contribution now by returning the mailer envelope for the 1963 March of Dimes campaign" was voiced by volunteer leaders in the San Mateo County chapter of the National Foundation.

The March of Dimes drive began Dec. 10 and will continue until Feb. 10.

Daly City Chairmen Lewis Gazzano, Bank of America, Westlake, and Phillip Segal of 38 Carmel, Westlake, have distributed canisters throughout the community.

At the Westlake Lounge in Daly City, March of Dimes boards will be filled by donors. A total of $2,140 in dimes was received at the lounge last year.

The mailer envelopes were sent to more than 130,000

Mayor Speaks . . .

Daly City Should Get Christen Land

Daly City should logically have first chance at annexation of the recently purchased Christen Lands, according to Mayor Joseph Verducci.

Since Daly City is contingent to this land, the city can more easily provide police, fire, water and sewage services, he said.

According to Verducci, Daly City's zoning laws, which allow a minimum of 33 to 35 foot lot frontage, are more advantageous to builders, who can build more homes per lot in Daly City than in other communities.

The Christen dairy ranch was purchased last November by Suburban Realty Company of San Francisco. Involved in the purchase was an estimated 800 acres of choice rolling hills land located just south of Daly City.

Aim of the developers is to build a residential community complete with single and multi-family dwellings, commercial areas, shopping centers, parks and playgrounds.

Mayor Verducci has asked the city engineering department to make a survey of the

St. Francis Shopping Center Opens Jan. 16

Barton Development Company announces the grand opening of their 56,000 sq. ft. shopping center in Daly City, at St. Francis boulevard and Southgate avenue, at 10 a. m., Wednesday, January 16.

Mayor Joe Verducci, dean of San Francisco State College, will preside, and many local dignitaries will attend. The center, designed by Wurster, Bernardi & Emmons and built by MacDonald-Young & Nelson, is of striking, modern design, and is notable both for the speed with which it was constructed and for its full list of tenants—all but three of the stores are leased, and nearly all tenants are open for business. Principal tenants are Safeway and Ben Franklin, with a full range of service stores.

St. Mary's Fund Drive Meeting In Westlake

The first plans to solicit funds on a public scale that will include the building of a new St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco and the construction of a new high school at a site yet to be selected in the South San Francisco-Daly City area, will be formulated this week.

Religious and Catholic lay leaders from eight parishes in this area will assemble on January 9 at 8 p. m. at Our

Arrest Clears Up Two Holdups

The arrest in San Francisco of Douglas Ray Statz, 2400 Bayshore boulevard, San Francisco, on January 2 cleared up two unsolved armed robberies in Daly City, police reported. Statz, in custody in San Francisco, also admitted to 18 holdups in San Francisco.

Cleared by the arrest were the theft of $300 at gun point from County Line Market, 6000 Mission street, on March 23, and the armed robbery on May 7, 1962, at Vince and Fred's Liquor Store at 6112 Mission street.

Police said Statz would not identify his partner in the robberies. In each stickup, the men forced store owners to empty the contents of cash registers into paper bags.

Lady of Mercy Church, 1 Elmwood drive, Daly City, according to Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken.

The eight parishes which will have delegates at the meeting are: Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Daly City; Holy Angels, Colma; Church of the Good Shepherd and St. Peter's Church, Pacifica; and All Souls, Mater Dolorosa and St. Veronica's of South San Francisco.

The memorial fund will mark the "Memorial Fund" of the campaign. In this phase, donors may specify that their contribution go for the purchase of any one of many items such as a crucifix or altar in memory of a beloved one.

The memorial phase will supplement the current efforts of the advance phase designers for donations from those in the highest income brackets. The fund campaigns have been underway since September following the destruction of St. Mary's Cathedral by fire.

"In the interest of economy, it was decided to not only build a new Cathedral but to campaign for the realization of long-laid plans for three new high schools, a college seminary and a home for the aged," Archbishop McGucken said.

Estimated cost for the several developments has been set at $17,000,000.

The Prize -- Bayshore Industrial Properties

The battle lines were drawn this week as Brisbane instituted proceedings to annex a 16-square mile industrial section of Bayshore City and Bayshore City Citizens Association petitioned to annex to Daly City.

'No Land Grabs Wanted,' Says Mayor Verducci

Mayor Joseph Verducci of Daly City said that Daly City does not want to be accused of "land grabbing" in the proposal of Bayshore City to annex to Daly City.

"In the first place," he said, "no matter what we think, there's not much we can do because a sister city is in the throes of an annexation battle."

Verducci added it is "our feeling that we should be contacted by the homeowners and the property owners in an official way and then we will take the matter under advisement and study."

The Bayshore land, which Brisbane has proposed to annex and which Bayshore City would wish to go to Daly City, Verducci said, has "vast industrial potential." This would favorably affect the Daly City tax base.

"The fact that this is contiguous to the Crocker Estates is very important to our future."

There are about 800 homes in Bayshore City, but Daly City, Verducci said, would not be interested in annexing the city without the industrial area. "We would have to police it. With the center of the city being way over here, there would be a water problem. They own their own water supply. . . it would have to be integrated into our system."

He said Bayshore City has a good fire service and also an adequate sanitary district, but there is some question as to whether Daly City could integrate these districts into theirs.

"Our position is that we don't want to be accused of land grabbing or attempting to thwart a sister city as we can go in and annex this land. We don't want to be unethical at all."

Four Are Hurt in Broadside Crash

A brakeless auto driven by a young wife crashed into a car at the intersection of Balboa street and 45th avenue last Saturday, seriously injuring a Daly City mother and her two children.

Mrs. Marlene Alvarado, 25, of 334 Woodrow street, Daly City, suffered multiple head and internal injuries. Her two children, Robbie, 5, and Pattie, 2½, sustained severe cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Gail LaPlante, 18, of 745 43rd street, the driver of the runaway car, suffered leg injuries in the accident. Mrs. LaPlante told police she was driving down 45th avenue hill when she found her foot brake would not work. She pulled back the emergency brake and found it, too, would not function. (Continued on Page 2)

Thomas Bocci, attorney for the Citizens Association said he has over 1100 signatures from Bayshore citizens who wish to annex to Daly City.

Bocci represents the Bayshore Sanitary District, Bayshore Fire District, Diamond public utilities district and the Bayshore school district.

Monday night, Bayshore City Fire Chief Harry Ritzmann presented an informal petition signed by 1178 adult Bayshore residents at a Study Session of the Daly City council, expressing the desire to be annexed to Daly City rather than Brisbane.

Bayshore City has about 3000 residents with 1130 registered voters.

Proceedings Begin
Superior Judge Wayne Millington Monday issued a temporary restraining order against Brisbane's proposed annexation.

The Brisbane City Council met Monday night and in the face of the restraining order, instituted proceedings to annex.

Bocci, as a result of these proceedings, said Tuesday that if necessary he will ask the court to hold Brisbane councilmen in contempt for violating the court's restraining order.

Brisbane Mayor John Turner said at the Brisbane Council Meeting Monday night that Brisbane wants to become an industrial city. He said that the people of an unincorporated area "own only the ground they have invested in."

The industrial half of Bayshore City, fronting on San Francisco Bay, is owned chiefly by Southern Pacific Railroad.

The Bayshore Citizens Commission, headed by Fire Chief Ritzmann, want to halt what they call "Brisbane's vicious land grab."

The association protested Thursday at a meeting of the county boundaries commission. Bocci told the commission that the four districts he represents in Bayshore City, would suffer a loss of 30 percent of their area and a consequent loss of tax revenue. At that time he submitted a petition signed by 479 of Bayshore's 1130 registered voters.

Questions About Donating Blood

Where and when? Westlake School, between 3 and 7 p.m., Friday, January 18.

Why should I give blood? Needless to say, blood cannot be manufactured. When a person needs a blood transfusion, there is no substitute. By giving now you can perhaps save the life of some person while at the same time building up credits for yourself or your organization or your friends.

What is meant by credits? When you donate blood, the Peninsula Blood Bank will award you credits which can be used in any future emergency. You can use these credits yourself, give them to friends, or provide that anyone in your club or organization may draw on them. Credits accumulated in the Peninsula Blood Bank do not expire until you use them, and they may be transferred any place in the United States.

What is a pint of blood worth? Blood is really a priceless commodity. It's worth a life to those in need. However, by giving blood now you can save yourself or your friends $22.50 that they would have to pay if they did not have credits to draw upon.

What is it like to give blood? It will probably take about 15 minutes from the time you enter the school to give blood to the time you leave. The actual time needed for you to donate blood will be less than four minutes. Before you leave the school, you may want to take advantage of the refreshments that will be provided.

How do I go about donating blood? If you wish to give as an individual, please call PL 5-0850, extension 11, and you will be sent an application and further information. If your organization wishes to participate as a group and has not yet been contacted, call the number above and your organization will be given the necessary information.

The school's glee club, under the direction of Mrs. Beverly Cooper, gave the audience a sampling of many Yule songs. The Tonettes, under the direction of Daniel March, played a selection of Christmas music. Refreshments were served following the program.

DALY CITY FIREMAN Herb Powell (left) and Pat Cunneen (right) compare the old bulky resuscitator which has been in operation for 25 years and on the right is the new compact resuscitator which went into operation at Firehouse No. 5 last week.

DC Gets A New 'Life-Saver'

By Garry Niver

The emergency phone PL 5-4212 rings at the Daly City Police Department. The voice on the other end of the line is very emotional as it issues a plea of aid for one of its loved ones.

The dispatcher reaches over and presses the button on the 24-hour 'hotline' at fire station number five. Within seconds firemen Pat Cunneen and Herb Powell are rolling to the scene of the stricken person. The call was for a resuscitator, and station five is just one of the three DC Firehouses equipped with the instrument.

The Daly City fire department, unique from other departments, provides Daly City with this valuable life-saving service.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy's men are on 24 hour call to roll to the aid of a heart attack victim and other people who have respiratory failures.

And Daly City's "unofficial Life Saving Corps" has become even more flexible with the acquisition of a new compact resuscitator. Chief Kennedy assigned the new apparatus to station five.

The small lifesaver is not any larger than the ordinary suitcase and can be easily packed by one man. It replaces a 25-year-old bulky one which is over twice the size and needs the assistance of two men to haul it.

Cunneen says that the new resuscitator will make beach rescues much faster: "The new set-up will enable us to reach the victim faster and every second is of the essence when someone has stopped breathing."

The resuscitator, which cost the city a minimal $325, is equipped with three sizes of air masks—from infant on up to adult, and has various attachments for drowning, heart attack, lung congestion and electrical-shock victims.

Of course the resuscitator doesn't work in every instance. Sometimes the firemen arrive at the scene and the victim is already dead. However, they still attempt to put life back into the victim by administering the resuscitator and work over the victim until a doctor pronounces him dead.

But the reward of diligence in working over a victim comes often for the DC fireman. "You can't imagine the feeling when you apply the life-saver to a victim who is more dead than alive, and all of a sudden the color returns to the face and the person starts breathing ordinarily again," said Cunneen.

"It's indescribable," he added.

Chief Kennedy makes sure that all of his troops are well-trained in applying the resuscitator, and it has paid off time and time again.

The call for a resuscitator goes out about four times per week. And more often than not, the victim is brought back from the brink of death.

The acquisition of the new compact resuscitator makes the Daly City Fire Department, already known as one of the area's best, that much more proficient and mobile.

And within the next few weeks when the new resuscitator saves its first life, it will have more than paid for itself.

Students' Day At Roadster Show

Monday, Feb. 18, will mark the first "students' matinee" ever held in the 15-year history of the Grand National Roadster Show. The "grand-daddy of all auto shows" is presented in the Oakland Exposition Building.

Creative car building experts will be on hand to explain the finer points of experimental cars, custom cars, hot rods, sports cars, custom power boats and customized motorcycles as the 15th annual Roadster Show opens its doors from 4 p.m. till 6 p.m. only on Feb. 18 for high school and college students interested in handbuilt automobiles.

Students will be admitted to the special matinee for the discount price of one dollar by showing student body cards. Adults will be admitted for the same discount price when they accompany students.

Daly City Man Retires After 42 Years With Steamship Company

Chief cost accountant John Edward Hergert of 442 Westmoor avenue, Daly City, retired from States Steamship Company on December 28 after nearly 42 years of continuous service. It was announced this week by M. B. Frochen, treasurer of the steamship line.

Hergert was born in Endicott, Wash., in 1897, son of a German minister. He moved to Portland at an early age and attended both high school and night school there before enlisting in the army during World War I.

In 1921, he was hired by the Columbia Pacific Shipping Company, a predecessor of States, as a junior in the auditing department. He has remained in the accounting side of the firm since then, and reached his present position of chief cost accountant for the company in 1955.

In 1924, Hergert married Elizabeth Blahm of Walla Walla, Wash., and they have three children: a son, Dr. H. L. Hergert, a Ph. D. research chemist for the Rayonier Corporation in Shelton, Wash.; a daughter, Eleanor E. Hergert, who is in the accounting department of the Mundet Cork Corporation here, and a daughter, Marlene A. Nichols, who is a teacher in the San Jose public school system.

Hergert's plans for retirement are firm and fixed. "I plan to continue on with my stamp collecting and home movies," he said, "and I also plan to come into San Francisco twice a week and just sit in the courts and observe. I love the law, and now I will finally get enough time to really see its processes in operation."

Hergert was hosted at a testimonial luncheon December 26 by 50 of his co-workers and presented with gifts.

The family consisted of: father—Patrick Smith; mother—Elna Abrams; children—Melina Kelly, Helen Hammond, Timothy Egan and Carol Mendez.

For the world community appeared the following: England—Keith Paras; Sweden—Pattie Wildman; Ireland—Anthony Dunlevy; Germany—Michael Dab; Holland—Connie Butts; Israel—Joanne Levey; Italy—Eileen Puppo; Mexico—Robert Kossick and Thomas Brady; Spain—Julie Jimenez; China—Janet Hurtado; Japan—Jeffrey Wohl; Hawaii—Kathleen Tibbats and Melanie Miguel; Alaska—Virginia Smith; and United States—Michael Winters.

The offstage chorus consisted of: David Fox, Debbie Edwards, Ricci Casali, Gregory Faulkner, Robin Peerman, Nicki Forsey, Cheryl Hall.

Winter Months Usher In Good Planting Season

For gardeners who come from colder climates, the phenomenon of a California winter is twofold. First there's the miracle of winter bloom from annuals, shrubs and trees. Then, there is the pace of garden life. Far from grinding to a halt, garden activity steps along at a lively clip, as the winter months usher in one of our busiest planting seasons, bar none.

The reason is that winter brings with it the bareroot planting season in California, which means that the months from mid December to mid March are the best to plant any number of dormant trees and shrubs. Most fruit trees, many shade trees, deciduous flowering shrubs and vines, berries and grapes all can be most easily and economically planted during winter.

Roses top the list of plants which are available now in bareroot, not only the two new All-America Award winners—Tropicana and Royal Highness—but favorite roses of past years, including bush, pillar and climbing types. Other dormant shrubs to be planted now are Flowering Quince, Lilac, Weigela, Mock Orange and Forsythia.

Most of our deciduous shade trees are also planted during the bareroot season. A partial list of favorites would include

Sweet Gum, Maidenhair, Weeping Willow, Sycamore, Tulip Tree, Modesto Ash and Moraine Locust.

Many of the most ornamental flowering trees are deciduous which means you'll find them bareroot in nurseries now. These include Dogwood, Saucer Magnolia, Hawthorn, Silk Tree and flowering fruits such as Japanese Cherry, Flowering Peach and Crabapple.

If you long for a home fruit orchard, now is the best time to start it. Apples, pears, apricots, peaches, plums, cherries, plus pecans, almonds and walnuts are recommended for planting during winter. The advice of a local C.A.N. member is indispensable to the would-be orchardist for some fruit trees do better in one area than in others, and while you may know that peaches do well in your corner of the state, you might choose a variety that would rather be elsewhere.

Another point to consider when you plant a home orchard is how many trees your garden can accommodate. Temptation is to plant more than you should. When temptation is strong and space is crowded, your best bet is to use dwarf fruit trees or trees on which several varieties have been budded to a single root-stock. The thing to remember about dwarf trees is that while overall size is considerably less than normal, their fruit is of standard size and quality in every respect.

The roots, when you buy dormant trees or shrubs will usually be wrapped in a protective cover to keep them from drying out. The ideal practice is to plant them as soon as you can after getting them home. If there is any delay—say one to several days—do what nurserymen call "healing in"—that is, dig a shallow trench and bury the roots with moist soil until you are ready to plant them in a permanent location.

Occasionally some of the smaller roots will have dried out or broken. These should be pruned out before planting, and all roots should be shortened to about eight or ten inches. Here again, ask a nurseryman to guide you.

The planting hole need not be overly large if soil is fertile and loose. Where the soil is poor, however, large planting holes are a must. The soil, moreover, should be removed and mixed with compost or manure to insure that the young shrub or tree will have an easy time of it at the start.

Hi-Fi Show Features Youth Design Contest

Bay Area high school, junior college, college and professional design school students will have an opportunity to display their talents at an interior design contest sponsored by the forthcoming Annual San Francisco Bay Area Decorators and Hi-Fi Show.

The Decorators and Hi-Fi Show will be held in the San Francisco Cow Palace from March 6 through March 10.

The interior design contest, which began January 2, and closes March 1, will be separated into two divisions: one division for junior college, college and professional design school students; and the second division for high school students.

According to James Logan, producer of the Decorators and Hi-Fi Show, students may obtain copies of the rules and instructions along with the floor plan of the room to be designed through their schools or by writing to the officers of the Show.

"The purpose behind the contest is to provide an opportunity for students to display their talents and abilities and to encourage and stimulate student interest in design for both professional and personal use and to offer an incentive and outlet for creativity," Logan said.

"It is only logical that such a contest be held in conjunction with a show that features the work of many of the country's outstanding decorators and designers," he added. "The students couldn't be in better company."

All entries in the design contest must be submitted on 18 inch by 24 inch boards and must be accompanied by samples of fabrics and color swatches to be used in furniture upholstery, drapes, floor and wall coverings.

Students may submit two renderings per project: one showing the furniture and fixture arrangements; the other presenting a two or three sided perspective of the room with color schemes.

Logan said that all renderings must have the students' names, addresses, cities, names of schools and home telephone numbers along with the division they are entered in attached to the lower right-hand corner.

"While students may draw furniture and wall and floor covering designs," Logan explained, "this is not an art contest and students may cut out pictures of furniture and patterns from magazines and paste them on the renderings if they wish."

A panel of judges, including Fred Gruen, president of the nationally acclaimed San Francisco interior design firm of Albers Gruen Associates, and his chief designer Bert

Franklin, NSID, will select the winners.

Judging will be based on originality and imagination, practicality of design and attention to detail in presentation.

The first place winner in the senior division for college, junior college and professional design school students will also be given the opportunity to work alongside top professional interior designers at the firm of Albers Gruen Associates in San Francisco for one week.

The Decorators and Hi-Fi Show offices are located at 456 Fulton Street, San Francisco.

Ceramic Classes At SSF Adult School

Mrs. E. Waite is again offering classes in ceramics through the South San Francisco Adult School, 400 "B" Street. Classes are offered for the beginning and advanced student at South San Francisco High School, Magnolia School and Alta Loma School, all in South San Francisco.

Demand for these classes has been so great that Mrs. Waite has scheduled morning, afternoon and evening sessions.

Registration for any of the sessions may take place at 400 "B" Street, South San Francisco or by phoning the Adult School office, JU 8-6285.

Pack 360 Boys Do Christmas Projects

The spirit of Christmas was enjoyed by the cubs of Pack 360 by collecting pocket reading books for the patients of Letterman Hospital and making a Christmas tree complete with ornaments for San Francisco Children's Hospital.

The giving of gifts between cubs highlighted the December pack meeting at Thomas Edison School.

Peter Colby earned his Webelos Badge and was graduated from Cub Scouts.

Jimmy Cronin, Stan Hoffman and Mike Pagani earned Bear badges; Don Hagarty and Mike Seckely Wolf badges.

Steve Anderson earned Denner award; Jim Brady, Denner and Silver arrow. Asst. Denners are Bob Pickert, Mike Moberg and Lenny Yamron.

Vista Mar School

Vista Mar has a new student body president—Donald Wood—who has been vice-president since the beginning of the school year. Bruce Tronoff, former president of Vista Mar Student Council, moved, leaving a vacancy in this office.

Donald, fourth grade, has been the student representative for his class, as well as vice-president. Chris Torlakson, who was "runner-up" for president, is vice-president. Marty Hecht is the class representative as a result of Bruce Tronoff leaving.

Class representatives for other classes resulting from students leaving will be chosen by classes shortly.

Coupled with the New Year will be a "Citizen of the Month," to be elected by each class based upon the criteria of good citizenship as established in the "Student Code of Behavior" prepared by students. The test for the code of behavior was based upon the "Four-Way Test" of truth, fairness, good will and better friendship, and benefits to all concerned.

Both children and faculty have returned to Vista Mar refreshed by their vacation during the holiday season and looking forward to beginning the new year. Many exciting experiences were shared in all classrooms when the children returned Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Frances Lanthier's class, working with Mrs. Kay Antongiovanni, are engaged in writing their autobiographies as a part of their language arts experiences. This is leading toward exploration of the biographies of famous persons in their study of American history.

Mrs. Antongiovanni, along with Mrs. Bellamy Kaufman and Miss Karen Anderson, are completing their student teaching assignment at Vista Mar and all three teachers will be missed by students and teachers when their time at Vista Mar is completed this month.

Dropout Rate Dips At UC Law School

Boalt Hall, the University of California law school in Berkeley, reported this week a dramatic reduction in its first-year dropout rate.

Assistant Dean Russell Bruno said the principal cause is a marked improvement in the aptitude of entering students resulting from enrollment limitations made necessary by a shortage of space.

The "mortality rate" has undergone a 16 per cent reduction within the past three years, and this trend probably will continue, Bruno said.

By 1960, space limitations made it necessary to limit the number of entering students to about 275, Dean Bruno said. This has been done for the past three years. However, during this period the number of applicants has nearly doubled.

Having a larger number of good students to choose from, Boalt Hall has ended up with entering classes whose undergraduate grades and aptitude test scores are, on the whole, significantly better than in earlier years.

Since 1950, the proportion of entering students coming from the UC campus at Berkeley has dropped from three-fourths to one-fourth. More than 75 per cent of this year's entering class of 271 students come from other colleges and universities.

BRINGING the hopes of the North Peninsula League tournament tomorrow at Oceana are: L-R) Steve Schmuck (33), Lee Graf (25), John Kelly (35), Tito Torres (15) and Mike Morrison (11).

the winner's circle

By GARRY NIVER

Lightweight contender Kenny Lane may get a long-awaited shot at the elusive lightweight title this year. Title-holder Carlos Ortiz has been offered $40,000 to defend against Lane at Madison Square Garden in March.

All that we can say is "about time." The orthodox Lane (he is a southpaw) is 31 years of age. His days on the canvas tour are limited and he is certainly deserving of a good money shot as far as ability goes.

Back in 1955-56 Lane was the number two ranked challenger behind Paolo Rosti and Larry Boardman for the lightweight title.

Unfortunately just as he would near a title shot, he would suffer a split decision loss. Also he was ducked plenty of times by old Joe Brown.

But Lane kept fighting and knocking over contenders like a bowler levels pins. His efforts were almost ignominious to the eyes of the very top contenders.

But last year he got a solid chance to make his name once again become prominent in the very top of the fistful of contenders.

Lane accepted a match with San Jose's Louis Molina, at that time the hottest prospect in the lightweight division. Lane went into the match a heavy underdog, and came out of it with offers of a few more good paydays, and most important, the hope of getting a title bout. What he did to Molina in the ensuing ten rounds would be criminal to put down here. He gave the youngster a firm ten round boxing lesson and won easily.

Now Muskegon Kenny is being set up for a title shot. He and Ortiz have met twice before, with each walking away with a decision. One thing for sure, win, lose or draw, Lane will make it an exciting fight if he gets the chance.

Lane is of the old school of boxing and he made the grade by his own prowess, and not by easy setups and phony press clippings. Let's hope the deserving vet gets his chance.

While still on the subject of boxing, Phillip Segal, 38 Carmel drive, Daly City, who is one of the chairmen of the 1963 DC March of Dimes drive, reports that his good friend Carl "Bobo" Olson is negotiating to fight Gullio Rinaldi in the Cow Palace in March. Rinaldi is currently the fifth ranked light-heavy, while Olson is seventh-ranked.

The big news of the impending fight is that Segal is negotiating with the Internal Revenue bureau, which seems to have a very intense interest in Bobo, to see if part of the proceeds can be given to the March of Dimes fund.

At this time there are a lot of loose ends. First of all, Rinaldi, who fought to a draw with Olson in his own backyard last month, is a little hesitant about coming over here for obvious reasons. He will probably have fair judges.

Secondly, Olson does owe the 'revenue boys' a tidy little sum and Segal may have a bit of a problem working that out.

But we hope that everything can be straightened out in time. The local fans could use a good boxing match and the March of Dimes kiddies could use the money.

ON THE SIDELINES... James Makin, a new addition to the Daly City Police department, is a former international champ of some sorts.

The patrolman placed third in the International Surf Championships at Malibu Beach in 1958 and was also a member of the National Volleyball Team.

Doug McChesney, former South SF High grid and baseball star, and later a standout in both sports at San Jose State, was named to the All-Army football team in Germany as a halfback.

NPL Cage Tourney Opens

The power and potential of the North Peninsula Basketball League, which has been somewhat hidden in the past few weeks, will come to prominence this week end when the six teams tip-off in the First Annual NPL Tournament at Oceana High School.

The opening war is scheduled for 3:15 p.m. tomorrow afternoon, January 10, when coach Mike Orlich's Jefferson Indians take to the court against host Oceana. Following that contest, Terra Nova and El Camino fight it out. Predicted powers South San Francisco and Westmoor drew byes the first day and will meet the winners Friday eve.

Coach Tony Giammona's Rams will take on the victor of the Terra Nova-El Camino contest Friday night at 7 p.m. The Warriors meet the Jefferson Oceana winner in the nitecap at 8:30 p.m. The two winners of the Friday contests will vie for the title at 8:30 p.m. Saturday night.

The pre-tourney, and also pre-NPL picks, are South SF and Westmoor, with Jefferson and Terra Nova also figuring in the close running. Both Oceana and El Camino are in their first year of varsity competition and are given little chance of grabbing the crown.

JEFFERSON INDIANS Orlich's Indians seem to have the potential, but lack a good floor leader. "I have the guns, but need the spark-plug to unite the team," said Orlich. "I have nine frontline players and if I can find the right combination, with a good fire-guy on the floor, I believe that we can not only take the tournament, but the NPL title as well," the astute mentor replied.

Leading the Indians is 6-3 1/2 forward Dan Boden. The slender senior has fine moves and is an excellent outside shooter. Orlich calls him the best shot in the league. At the other forward post Orlich has steady Larry Keeling, hitting the even six-foot mark.

One of Orlich's pleasant surprises is the steady improvement of 6-4 junior center Jerry Sullivan. The tall lad could be a very important cog in the Indians' quest for the title.

Also slated to see plenty of action are Wayne Stoller, Steve Willis Jr., Larry Jones, Gary Mendoza and Mark Perry.

WESTMOOR RAMS Coach Tony Giammona's Rams, although taking a battering in the Rioridan tournament, have a well-balanced group and are co-favored with South SF.

The Rams have an excellent floor leader in 5-11 guard Steve Schmuck. The consistent youth sets up plays and has a good jump-shoot from outside the key.

On the boards Giammona has, at present, the best center in the NPL in 6-2 John Kelly. The agile board man was named to the Rioridan All-Tourney team and was high point man in the three-day tourney which included such powers as Serra, St. Ignatius, Sacred Heart and Rioridan.

Kelly is also the leading scorer on the Ram five. Schmuck is second in scoring.

Adding to this one-two punch are Lee Graf, Tito Torres and Mike Morrison.

"I think that South SF is slightly stronger and should be the favored team," said Giammona. "Terra Nova and Jeff will also be tough, but I believe that if the kids play good, steady ball, with few mistakes, we are capable of winning the tournament," Giammona concluded.

SOUTH SF

The Warriors are paced by two lads up from last year's lightweight quint. Dave Parenti, a 5-8 'mighty-mite' and Rich "Big Mo" Mozzini, at 6-1, are the two leaders for the Warriors.

Parenti was an All PL First

Team lightweight selection last year and led the loop in scoring. Mozzini was a second team selection.

At center for the blue and white hoopsters is 6-3 Larry Cervelli. The youth showed flashes of brilliance in 1962 and could be reaching his potential this year. Straight A student Bruce Grantham and speedy Bob Szeher, also members of the 1962 third place lightweight team, plus 6-3 Chris Torp, round out the Warrior players.

TERRA NOVA

The Rich Burt tutored Tigers are paced by three foot-ballers: Fred Mason, Manuel Pick and Dennis Caruthers. Pick is the all around floor leader of the Tigers. The 6-1 center averaged 13.8 points per game last year.

Mason, at 5-11, is in the forward slot and is an excellent board man. Caruthers, at 5-9, is the playmaking guard. The coast crew could surprise a few teams in the tourney and in the league this year if they jell.

OCEANA AND EL CAMINO The two neophytes of the NPL will have a tough go of it this year. The Sharks from Oceana are without any experience at all.

Coach Gary Kenney's Camino battlers are a little better off, having fielded a lightweight and junior varsity team last year.

Rodney Aguilar, last year's JV center could be one of the best in the loop. Aguilar stands 6-3 and weighs in at 215 pounds. Backing up Aguilar are guards Walt Harris and Hal Westmoreland. Ed Nelson, 6-2 forward, will aid Aguilar on the boards.

From the looks of things it will be Westmoor versus either Jeff or South SF in the finals on Saturday night. Terra Nova could sneak in with a little luck if they can upset Westmoor. —Garry Niver.

Verducci In Southland For Grid Rules Meet

Daly City Mayor Joe Verducci left last Monday and is in Southern California this week attending the National Collegiate Athletic Association meeting in Los Angeles, which ends today.

Tomorrow, January 10, "Coach Joe" will travel to the Del Coronado Hotel in San Diego for a meeting of the National Football Rules Committee. Verducci represents the small colleges West of the Mississippi.

Verducci feels that the committee will recommend unlimited substitution, which was banned following the 1952 season, at tomorrow's meeting in San Diego.

The same rule was submitted last year, but the NCAA turned down the plan. However, an unofficial poll of the rules committee showed that they supported the unlimited substitution rule 18-6.

Another change which the committee will probably recommend is the deletion of the NCAA rule which prohibits sideline coaching. Most of the coaches and all 24 members of the rules committee were in favor of allowing coaches to talk to players during time-outs and other breaks in play.

Verducci also feels that the controversy over equipment changes will come up. The NFRC meet ends Sunday, January 13.

Larry Belfredge and the PAL Eagles took revenge on the OLM Dons for their loss to the OLM Gaels last week. Belfredge came to life in the second half. The Eagles led 5-4 at the beginning of the second half when Belfredge hit 10 points (five field goals) that, combined with points contributed by Gary Weiner, Pat Cassidy, Pat Smyser, Mike Larios and Bill Lindsay to give the Eagles a 22-10 win. The Dons missed the help of big Steve Kadleck.

The sharpshooting OLM Gaels hung another scalp on their teepee this week. Steve Becker was high point man for the Gaels with 8 points but the real damage was done by the whole Gael team. Gordon Glushinski, Phillips, Tabor, King, O'Donnell, Pidgeon, Churchwell, Martin, Sullivan and Sariotti all contributed points or fine defensive play to the 30-3 victory over the Holy Angels Lions.

Salzano, De Sarto and Bernie kept the Holy Angels Lions in the game.

at Westlake Bowl

By JIM GREALISH

The Westlake Juniors brought fame and glory to Daly City when they "invaded" the Los Angeles area last week. Coach Primo Liberator took five of the top average Juniors to the Southland where they competed against the best Junior teams of Southern California. Although losing two of the three match games, they upheld the honor of Northern California as they defeated the Southern California All-Stars No. 1, 2872 to 2782, and lost the Dutch Village 2780-2665 and Southern California All Stars No. 2 by a 2706-2694 score.

An indication of the caliber of the competition was the pin total for the three matches—Westlake 8231 and opponents 8218. In a "fringe" benefit of the trip, Bob Grout, Steve Hargrove, and Glenn Hilton teamed to take first place in a Dutch Village Trio Tournament. High shooter of the trip was Steve Hargrove with 566-624-624.

Bowlers will be close to their television sets on January 26 as the finals in the 1963 Bowling Proprietors Association All-Star Tournament will be sent nationwide from Kansas City.

The 915 All Star League once again produced the high scores of the week as Rich Knorr of the Air Flow Heating team shot a 218 game and 647 series while others to break the six hundred mark were Don Molteni and Suds Bier of Light Soda on Tap with 628 and 620 respectively. Larry Oppenheim and Jim McGuirk of San Jose Bowling Supply with 619 and 601, Bob Johnson and Bill Baroni of Connett Insurance with 618 and 616, Lou Ramirez of 7-Up with 611, and Billie North of Downtown Center Box Office with 604.

For the second consecutive week, Vince Ferrigno of Fishers Egg Noodles topped the Westlake Classic with a 592 series on a high game of 212. There will be plenty of traffic around Westlake Bowl next weekend as the News-Cast Bulletin finals take place at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. Saturday and the finals in the Bowlers Victory Legion kick off at noon Sunday.

Plans are under way for the next "Thursday Girl" Bridge Luncheon which will be held at the Bowl on Thursday February 7 at 1 p.m. Chairman Ann Johnson has announced that the February Luncheon will feature bridge and gifts from Richters Interiors. Reservations may be made by calling PL 6-7370.

Al Rasore of the Spreckles Russell team really found the range as he shot a big 225 game and 569 series to lead the Mayfair Strike League for the week.

Chief of Police Lo Petrocci was back on the beam Wednesday night as he posted a 219 game and 584 series to lead the Daly City Employees League. Arlene Keogh was the leading lady with a 190 game and 469 series.

Next Sunday at midnight marks the closing date for qualifying in the current Northern California Ladies' Team Handicap tournament. With the top ten teams from Westlake being selected for the semi-finals, the girls are forming teams with an eye for getting into the top ten bracket, not necessarily the top spot. Teams of any five WIBC bowlers may shoot whenever lanes are available.

The Third Annual Westlake Handicap Doubles will start January 21 with over $2,000 in guaranteed prizes plus many other cash prizes based on the number of entries. Again, there will be the Optional Singles featured where bowlers may use the first three of the four games for a special prize list.

Safety Course At SC Boat Show

Safety in boating and problems of renewing boating licenses will be treated in special fashion by the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, San Jose Flotilla No. 41, during the fifth annual Santa Clara County Boat, Sports & Travel Show, at the county fairgrounds in San Jose, January 18-20.

A 20-minute dramatization by Coast Guard members will be given thrice daily on the big stage to show how to outfit a boat for safety. Ed Bulard, principal of Gilroy High School, will be in charge of the demonstrations.

Serra Bowl News

It appears to be ladies' day in this week's news run down at Serra. After an eventful holiday season which, for most ladies, included a gala evening at Serra's big New Year's Eve party the girls attacked the lanes with renewed vigor and here are the first results of 1963 kegling.

In the afternoon "Feather Dusters" league the Serra Interns diagnosed lanes 21 and 22 just right as they continued their winning ways with a 4 to 0 sweep over the Sleepers who apparently were caught "napping." Dorothy Millard paced the winners with a healthy 188-504 as they stretched their league lead to a seven game margin over All Fall Down who only managed a 2-2 split with The Dregs. Joan Bentley picked up the day's high game by registering an even 200 midway in her 496 series for the 2nd place. But the biggest thrill belonged to Charlotte Gober of the Do-Re-Me-Faye team who shot a full 54 pins over her average piling up a solid 146 sticks in her second game.

Fran Sharpe was top sharpshooter for the Steak Pit with a 164-437 as she led her girls to a 3 to 0 win over the slightly dampened Washing Machine Parts Co. team. The league leading Marlar Plastering Co. girls plastered both the pins and their opponents, the Morning Stars, for games of 487-501 and 488 to win all 3 points and move 4½ games ahead of The Barber Shop Four. California Trophy slipped down into 3rd spot by losing 2 games to Toto's Pizzeria. Oddly enough the losers in this match out-totaled the winners 1566 to 1560 on games of 539, 511, and 516 against 464, 544, and 552. . . a good conversation piece for the next meeting of this "Coffee Klatch" league.

United California Bank roared back from their holiday vacation by rolling a new league high single of 975. Duane Anderson's star shone brightly for that group as he fired a torrid 217-569 series. High individual honors in "Bankers League" action were snared by Vern Boysen with a 209, 152, 215 effort totaling 576 for Federal Reserve; No. 2 as they took all 3 from the Bank of California. Frank Hee, fighting to maintain his 182 league average lead, started with a shaky 137 but bounced back with 213 and 162 for a respectable 512 in a losing effort which saw Hong Kong Bank overwhelmed by Crocker-Anglo in all 3 games. High shooting in other action included: Frank Rossio 202, Sam Mosunich 216, Maury Graziosi 204, Len Howes 206, Burt Koskaba 213 and John Dellapiane 201.

In the "Parkmerced" holiday sweater pot prizes were picked up by Jim Forslund 684 for $15, Lee Nebron 640, 512, and "Doc" Porter 638, $7. On the distaff side Gwen Wiesenhausen banded 655 and earned $11, Bev Cronin's 653 was good for $6, and Millie Cocker missed 600 by only one pin for 599 and $5.

League champ of the week appears to be Walt Longosho who showed "em how in the "Moonlighters" league and pounded out a hot 608 series on games of 212, 216, and 180. Friar Fred's Hints For Better Bowling - Number 3: Proper Equipment (pt. 2) - A three finger ball (thumb, middle, and ring) while preferred by most bowlers is strongly recommended for beginners. Hole size should be comfortably loose and the span should be neither too wide nor too narrow. A well fitted ball is a "must" for expert bowling and will allow you to hold the weight without any undue strain on either thumb or fingers. (Next Week - Grip and Stance).

Women Tie In Cypress Hills Ladies' Golf

Mrs. Alfred Mazzoli and Mrs. Donald Mix tied for low net in last Thursday's Cypress Hills Women's Golf Day. Mrs. Mazzoli toured the hilly lay-out in a 71-10-net 61 while Mrs. Mix fired a nifty 74-13-61 in the Class A division.

In the Class B section, Mrs. Fred Williams blasted out a scorching 64-13-net 51 to nab the low honors. Mrs. Charles Sargent was close behind with a 63-10-net 53. In the Class C division, Mrs. Douglas Leone carved out a 64-12-52 to grab the low net laurels. Mrs. Al Sereni and Mrs. John Reynolds each fired exact 74-14-net 60's to tie for second place.

Seventh Grade Loop . . .

Four Rec Cage Teams Undeclared

The ten team seventh grade city-wide basketball league opened play on Saturday. BYA Aero Motors, BYA Matadors, MHR Chiefs, OLM Angels, and the PAL Bears kept their records unblemished in the first week of play.

BYA Aero Motors took the Ben Franklin White Falcons 14-9 in their first league game. Jim Feldman was high point man for Aero Motors with six points, while Gary Stang followed with five points. George Garber of the Falcons hit five points.

Larry Bray took over for the BYA Matadors as they shaped up this week, winning over the EYA Hotshots, 21-14. Bray was high man with eight points followed by teammate Powell with seven. The Hotshots led until the last quarter when Bray, Tauber, and Powell found the range.

The Most Holy Redeemer Chiefs, in their first appearance, took the measure of the New Pisa Blues in a cliff-hanger, 29-27. Hanson of the Blues hit ten points. Horn was good for eight.

The OLM Angels' Steve Green paced his team to an overpowering, 48-20, win over the OLPH Golds with an 18-point performance. Green hit eight field goals and two charities. Offensively and defensively, the Angels look like the team to beat in the seventh grade league. Feeley, Figueroa, White, Ewing, Kilday, Courtney, Stormon and Bennett make up a combination that is tough to defeat.

Fighting all the way, the PAL Wildcats went down before the PAL Bears, 31-25. The Wildcats kept the game close all the time but faded in the fourth quarter before the scoring of Allen "Bulley" Olcese. Grady Proctor and Bobby Nolan, playing a real game, the Wild Cats distributed their scoring among all members of their team. Fred Garcia, Matty Russo and Jon Goodie were high point men for the Cats with six points each. Olcese 13, Proctor 8, and Barry Perrone, 6, were the big men for the Bears.

Mike McGuire looks like a real comer for the MHR Crusaders. McGuire chalked up 17 points against the OLPH Alley Cats as his team won, 35-27. Parodi and Burgess of the Alley Cats hit 11 and 10, respectively, but scoring by Torrono, Telesmani and Ruero of the Crusaders, in addition to McGuire's spurge, proved too much for OLPH.

Telvis Jones, eagle eye for the PAL Lakers, scored 15 points as his team collected a 34-21 win over the PAL Tigers. Following Jones' example, Greg Carter added 11 to the Laker total. The two accounted for 26 of the 34 Laker points. Mike Wynne hit 10 for the Tigers.

Russell Calvert of the New Pisa Reds set a mark for players to shoot at as he hit 21 points in his team's 56-18 victory over the Ben Franklin Green Falcons. Backing up this high scoring player, Alton Weipah hit 13 and Tony Smith hit 11. Chinn, Walker, Kruger and Parisi also scored for the Reds. Ben Franklin had trouble stopping the Reds, who scored almost at will. Greg Agar, Dennis Klein and Ed Fitzgerald did the majority of scoring for Ben Franklin.

PAL Big Warriors had a bye this weekend.

Peninsula Soccer League Expands To Eight Teams

The Peninsula Soccer League gets under way this Friday, January 11, with all eight teams seeing action.

The loop, which featured six teams last year, bulged to eight this year with the addition of El Camino High School of South San Francisco and San Carlos High School.

The Warrior team from South SF is coached by Al Bettucchi, with assistance from Bob Parr.

"The loop started four years ago with only three teams, and has now blossomed into eight teams," said Parr.

"We hope to get the four teams from the Jefferson District into the league next year," commented Parr. The Warriors had over 90 youths turn out for the sport this season. The teams all run a junior varsity team, allowing the majority of youths to participate.

The two South SF teams will alternate playing on Orange Park every Friday at 3 p.m. This Friday coach Bob Reinecker's El Camino Colts will host San Carlos on the Orange avenue field. Other teams are Serra, Priory, Sequoia and Woodside.

South SF travels south for a tussle with Melo.

Dose's Statistics

Stanford center Tom Dose is 6-8, 224 pounds, and hails from Glendale, Calif. The junior scored 442 points last year with a 43.8 per cent average. He also nabbed 270 rebounds.

Stanford Record

Stanford's all-time one-game scoring record is 50 points made by Hank Luisetti, Jan. 1, 1938, against Duquesne University in Cleveland, Ohio. Stanford won, 92-27.

Sherith Israel Knights In Close Win Over BYA Bender Roofing

Play in the 6th grade league was real tight this week as all teams had to fight for wins. The Sherith Israel Knights edged out the BYA Bender Roofing Cats, 22-20, in a real close game for their first win this week. Alan Newman was high point man for the game with 10 points. David Bell, Abe Shaffer, Joel Carrara and Phil Littleman starred for the Cats.

The OLM Hawks came from behind to squeak by the OLPH Hilltoppers, 30-25. Schweitzer, Shea, Denning and Guidice started off for the Hilltoppers with a bang but before long Martin Cresalia and Joe Arne put the Hawks back in the game. Cresalia contributed 10 points and Arne a big 13.

Gary Cardella took high point honors for his 15 points against the Holy Angels Colts in the 6th grade league. Cardella's team, PAL Vikings, won over the Colts, 33-18. Timmy Dillon of the Colts was overshadowed by Cardella's performance but he hit a big 12 points for his team. Orlich, March, Hector and Walorinta all his well for the Vikings.

The PAL Little Warriors won a see-saw battle over the PAL Jets, 24-15. The Warriors moved ahead in the first quarter on a field goal by Ray Shrock and a charity by Steve Kirby. Steve Long, Andy Themoleas, Bill Brown and Larry Yamron put the Jets out in front in the second quarter.

Tommy Belvin opened up in the third quarter with 10 points and while the Jets moved up, they could not keep up with the torrid pace set by Belvin Kiser, Kirby, Shrock and Linehan.

Cow Palace Record

Stanford's Ron Tomasic holds the one-game collegiate scoring record for the San Francisco Cow Palace with 33 points made against Bradley on Feb. 7, 1953. Stanford won the game, 87-73. Tomasic also holds the Stanford pavilion record of 40 points, made against the University of Southern California on Feb. 4, 1955. The Indians won, 92-78.

Strange Ingredients Go Into New Autos

Production of cars and trucks calls for many strange ingredients before the "cake" is pulled from the paint-drying ovens.

The automotive purchasing agents, according to the National Automobile Club, are paid to worry about the supply of such materials as walnut shells. The shells, ground into particles, are used as shot in blasting burs of metal from castings.

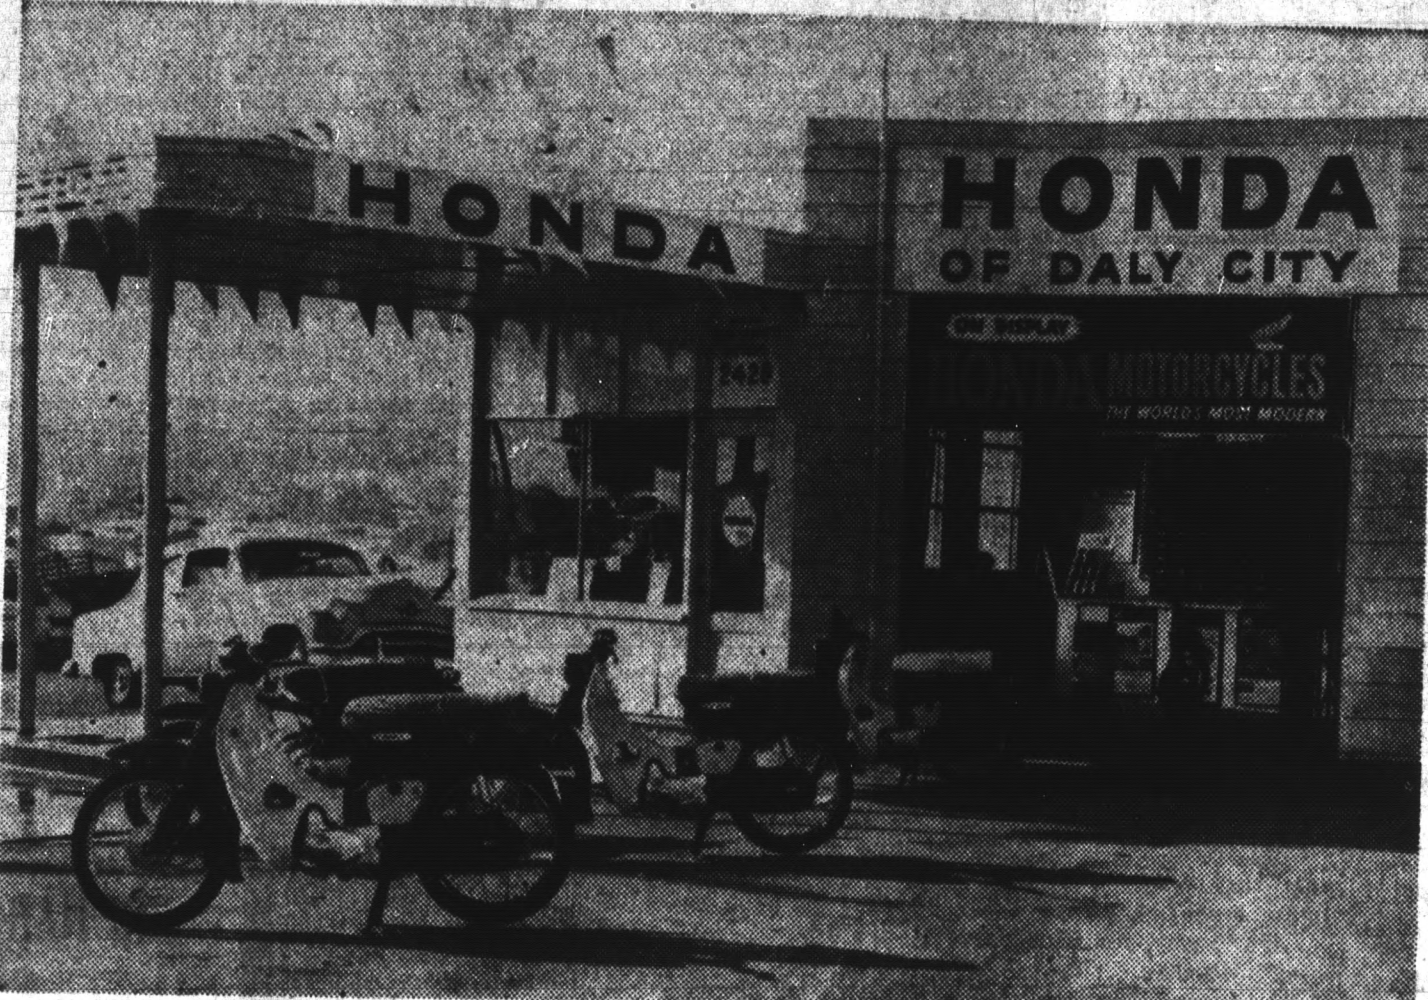

Ground apricot pits, in another instance, help clean the armature cores of electric motors.

Sulfur was once best known for its use in matches. Today it turns up as an ingredient in cigarette lighters, as well as in springs, engines, bumpers, other steels, radios, heaters, plastics, an in rubber, especially in tires. Some 35 pounds is used in the average car.

Asphalt not only surfaces the roads many cars drive over, but serves as a sound deadener in body construction. Beeswax applied to bolt threads speeds the tightening of nuts. Corn syrup, among other uses, aids in electroplating many metal parts.

The automotive shopping list for non-production items, used in operation and maintenance of an auto plant, contains an even more striking assortment of necessities.

NOW OPEN IN DALY CITY

RECENTLY OPENED in our city is Honda of Daly City, located at 2428 Junipero Serra Blvd. The owners, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cervetti, are no strangers to the motorcycle business. Mr. Cervetti is a pioneer in the field, being one of the first to import and sell British cycles as well as American makes. Until recently, he was active in sponsoring cycle racing and hill climbing, having had champions racing for him. His riders set some fancy national speed records at the old Belmont track and across the country. The Cervettis also own another business for bike enthusiasts in San Francisco, handling many makes. Says Cervetti: "In all my years in this business, it has been a long time since I have seen a product that is selling as well as the Honda Bike, and the quality of Honda will stand up to the highest standards. We are demonstrating them daily and sales have been just fine."

'Olds Heavy Duty Options For '63

LANSING—Camping, fishing and boating are sports which are drawing increasingly greater numbers of enthusiasts each year, and the automobile plays an integral part in these recreational sports as a trailer-hauling vehicle.

While every Oldsmobile is precision designed and quality constructed for the ultimate in comfort, convenience and safety, trailer hauling affects ride, performance and handling characteristics of the car.

To meet the special requirements of those customers who haul trailers, Oldsmobile is making available several heavy duty options for all 1963 models, designed to satisfy these specific operating conditions.

Heavy duty frame, rear springs and shock absorbers are available and help maintain proper ride and handling characteristics.

Because trailer hauling places increased demand on the power train, a special radiator and fan shroud and water pump and six-blade fan with thermostatically controlled clutch are available.

All Hydra-Matic transmissions excel in providing extra pulling power needed for hauling trailers. The special duty version features high-temperature seals, special oil pump for greater cooling and heavy-duty calibration for better clutch life.

To handle the additional trailer lights required for night driving, a 52 amp alternating current generator is available. To operate the turn signal lights of a trailer a heavy duty flasher unit is available.

In addition, oversize tires, special rear axle ratios and anti-spin differential are offered.

SAFE DRIVER
Be a safe driver in a sound car, advises the National Automobile Club.

At Ford Proving Ground... 50 MILLION MILES OF DRIVING

Curbing drunk drivers is a problem all over the world. But the methods used by some police forces are, to say the least, unusual.

The British Motor Corporation has completed a survey of control methods from the 136 countries of the world where BMC products are sold.

Turkish police simply pluck a drinking driver from his car and transport him 20 miles away. Then they make him walk all the way back under police escort. Turkish officials guarantee the offending driver will be sober by the time he gets back.

In Rhodesia, they don't ask questions. If you are suspected of drinking, bail is out of the question. It is jail—for at least a week.

In Canada, the foreman of a tractor train grinding its way into the frozen Arctic to supply the Distant Early Warning line radar network had an effective rule-of-thumb method of handling the problem.

Efficiency of his tractor drivers was being hampered by Cree Indians on snowshoes following the train. They were selling firewater—at $50 a quart.

Drivers who exhaled blue fumes instead of ice particles were hauled off their Cabs and relegated to the ignominious chore of swabbing out the caboose sledge — and washing dishes with ice water.

In France, the government has toughened its traffic laws to stem a surge of alcohol-originated car accidents.

France's 50 million inhabitants drink about 90 million gallons of alcoholic beverages annually. Severe jail sentences are now becoming mandatory.

In Russia, it is said the police use rather drastic action in fatality cases of drunk driving. The driver is ousted from his automobile and summarily shot.

Malayan police have an interesting method. The husband is locked up in jail, then his wife is brought to him and locked up, too.

In the Australian hinterland, the police take the names of drunks, pass them on to the local newspaper, and under a heading "He's Drunk and in Jail" run the hungover drivers' names.

In Canada, the criminal law provides mandatory jail terms for driving while "intoxicated" and jail terms for driving "with ability impaired."

In addition, under various provincial laws, driving licenses may be suspended for various periods. In enforcing such laws, blood, breath and other chemical tests are sometimes used.

A person is not required by law to submit to chemical tests. But in Saskatchewan refusal to take such tests makes the driver liable to lose his driver's license.

In the United States, some laws are very harsh. Connecticut law calls for automatic suspension on the first "driving under the influence" charge. It is usually for a 30-day period as a first offender.

Recommendation for Parking Automobiles

Runaway horses are a rare hazard in contemporary city life. Runaway automobiles are not so rare.

To help make sure that your car stays parked the next time you park it, the National Automobile Club passes along a few important tips.

Before leaving your car parked on level ground, see that the hand brake is on and is firmly set. Other cars, in parking, can shove your car around and possibly shove it in front of a fire hydrant or into some other no-parking zone.

Before leaving your car on a hill, see that the hand brake is on and is firmly set. Add substantially to the hand brake's braking power, and make a double check against danger, by leaving your car in low gear or reverse gear. Always, of course, have your front wheels blocked securely against the curb, turning them in towards it if your car is facing downhill, sharply out from it if your car is facing uphill.

These may seem like little precautions, but they may prevent much damage of property and possibly much loss of life.

Motorists Loyal to Gasoline Brand

Four out of five car owners are loyal to one particular brand of gasoline, and better than two out of three favor one particular service station, according to a survey conducted by Alfred Politz Research, Inc., and sponsored by the 1962 National Automobile and Tire Survey indicates that owners of 82 per cent of the nation's 49 million private passenger cars buy one brand of gasoline more often than any other, and that owners of 70 per cent of these cars are loyal to one station. Service and convenience are listed as top reasons for station loyalty.

Around the World...

CURBING DRUNK DRIVERS

The Ford vehicle-testing program at Romeo, Mich., has passed the 50 million mile mark—the equivalent of a hundred round trips to the moon.

There are more than 300 drivers working around the clock at the track, which is situated on a 3,500-acre site 55 miles north of Detroit. G. F. Doyle, manager of the proving ground, said they log 45,000 miles over the 44 miles of roads on a typical day.

Since Ford opened the facility in 1956, drivers have handled everything from $100,000 prototype cars of new models to the heaviest trucks on alternate shifts through day, evening and night.

An important assignment is to carry out the company's annual Cost-Durability program in which 40 to 50 Ford and competitive cars and trucks are each driven a total of 20,000 to 40,000 miles. The run completed, each vehicle is torn down and a detailed study of all components made by Ford engineers to rate their durability.

A basic problem facing the Ford staff is to devise accelerated tests which, in a short time, put a car through as much punishment as it would experience in years of normal driving.

Intensifying the problem—for the Ford drivers, but not the customers—is the fact that most of today's Ford products are designed to run 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes.

To prove out these cars, drivers take them over the punishing "Oklahoma Road," a tortuous circuit of mud, dust, and potholes like the ones in oil fields. Eight thousand miles on this road equals 30,000 in normal driving.

The corrosion resistance of Ford products gets a severe test at the proving ground. During every four hours of road time, each car splashes through a water bath containing a strong concentration of salt.

In addition, roads are heavily salted in winter. During last January alone, 967 tons of salt were spread on the test roads.

Tremendous amounts of fuel are consumed in the rigorous testing operations. Last month 105,000 gallons of gasoline were used as drivers logged more than 1 1/4 million miles. More than 400 vehicles have been proved out during the past year.

1963 OUTLOOK STATEMENT

By ROY ABERNATHY
President American Motors Corporation

With the forceful impetus of the compact car, the automobile industry should have one of its best years in 1963. The sales performance for 1962 will be the best since 1955, with close to seven million domestic and foreign-built cars sold in the United States. We believe this year should be in the area of the 1962 result.

Should this occur, it would mark only the second time in history that two years of more than six million units have followed each other, and one of the basic reasons for this is the stimulation given to the automobile industry by the introduction and success of the compact car. There have been few periods in automotive history when the impact of a new concept has been so pronounced.

Public reaction to the 1963 cars has been the best for any new-model period in history. Retail sales from October 1 through the first 10 days of December—when most makes offered 1963 models to the public—were 22.7 per cent above the same period a year ago. When it is considered that the fourth quarter sales result in 1961 was the best for that period in history, the current momentum is most encouraging.

These are signs, moreover, that the record sales will continue well into the 1963 calendar year. A recent quarterly survey by the U.S. Bureau of the Census showed that the proportion of families in October who reported plans to buy new cars within the next six to twelve months was up 11 per cent over corresponding proportions reported in October, 1960 and 1961.

A further good sign is the continuing increase in the amount of disposable income. Over the past five years, disposable income has increased an average of $3.9 billion per quarter. If this average increase continues, by the fourth quarter of 1963 individuals would have total disposable incomes running well in excess of $400 billion. The Commerce Department reported personal income in October rose by $2.1 billion to a record annual rate. Personal savings are at near-record levels, totaling about $36 billion.

Another significant factor which generally is reflected in good new-car sales is the used-car market. Prices remain strong, which reduces the cost of trading up to a new car and holds down depreciation, encouraging more buyers to enter the new-car market. The used car market itself is further strengthened by the first substantial infusion of compact cars.

Replacement demand for new cars continues to rise. The average car on the road today is nearly six years old. This age level has steadily climbed since 1956. Scrapage has averaged about four million a year for the last five years, and it is estimated to reach an all-time high of close to five million in 1963.

Not only is the total number of multiple car-owning families also steadily rising, but the formation of car-owning households is increasing twice as fast as the formation of new households. American Motors itself has set a record Rambler sales goal for the 1963 model year of 550,000 United States sales and another 60,000 to 70,000 Rambler sales abroad. This would mean an increase of about 27 per cent over 1962.

Compact car sales overtook standard car sales as the top volume car during 1962, although not for the full year. During the '63 model introductory period, they have been running nip and tuck with each other, but this is normally the period in which the larger and higher priced cars take their largest per cent of the market. In the 1963 market year, we expect the compact car, as we have always defined it (ranging

American Motors 'Progress Sharing'

"Progress Sharing" certificates were mailed last week to 32,291 American Motors employees advising them of the exact number of shares of company stock held in trust for each of them.

A total of 249,922 shares of American Motors capital stock have been credited to the 32,291 hourly and salaried employees after the first year's results of the Progress Sharing Plans which finance improvements in employee benefit programs and provide for stock credits on the basis of company earnings.

The certificates were mailed to employees living in nearly every state and in 11 foreign countries. Certificates were sent to 26,416 Wisconsin employees and 4,792 Michigan employees. An additional 1,083 were mailed to employees in other states and in foreign countries.

In a letter to all employees enclosed with the certificates, the company said: "As employee-stockholders we share not only a unique interest in our corporation but also share the challenging opportunity to participate in contributing effectively to our continuing success. Our combined concern and effort will make it possible for us to continue to produce, distribute and sell to our growing family of customers even finer Rambler automobiles and Kelvinator home appliance products year after year."

There is much more realism in car design today, and more reliance on quality rather than upon ostentation—which, in turn, we believe, reflects an enlarging understanding of the needs and knowledge and wisdom of the consumer.

Actually, past evaluations of market potential have tended to overlook a real phenomenon of recent years—a factor that should have a great bearing upon the trend of the economy: the relatively new status of the American consumer. The swift rise of disposable income, both in dollars and in the number of individuals with a surplus over basic needs, combine with higher education levels and the steady improvement in communication processes to make the U.S. consumer the world's most prosperous, best-informed and most independent buyer.

This fact will increase buyer demand for the balanced, optimum automobile as well as exerting comparably realistic influence on most consumer durable goods.

Since our economy is one that is directed at and by the consumer, his ascendancy should be an important factor in increasing the general stability of the economy. This factor, combined with built-in economic buffers, should tend to level out the extreme deviations in the economy. Thus, while our total economic gains may not have been as great as was hoped for in 1962, one may interpret this as a positive result of increasing stability.

Chrysler to Produce 500 Pace-Car Models
Special pace-car versions of the Chrysler 300 will be available to dealers in mid-January. The cars will be equipped as duplicates of the 300 convertible picked to pace the Indianapolis Memorial Day 500-mile race.

The 300s will be available as a convertible or two-door hardtop. The interiors will have front bucket seats, a center console with compass and center storage compartment and a pace car medalion on the glove compartment door. They will have special exterior chrome trim.

RAMBLER TOPS 400,000 MARK

With a record first ten-day period of December, Rambler retail sales for calendar 1962 have topped the 400,000-car mark. Thomas A. Coupe, vice president of automotive sales of American Motors, said this week.

Sales in the ten days rose to 10,348, compared with last year's 10,119, the previous peak for the period.

Deliveries of new Ramblers since Jan. 1, 1962, now total 409,270, compared with 355,877 in the comparable period of 1961, Coupe announced.

From A Feminine Viewpoint...

"They have more fun than anyone" might be said of the Daly City-Colma Lioness group (auxiliary of the Lions) who are one of the most lively of the local community organizations.

During the past year, they attended parties, dinner dances, enjoyed bus tours, luncheons and dinner meetings at the most exotic San Mateo and San Francisco restaurants.

However, they have their serious side, too, and have given great assistance to the men's group in their charity activities such as the White Can Drive, Operation Santa Claus, and their many youth activities.

An important date on their calendar this week is the annual installation of officers which will be held tomorrow night (Thursday, January 10) at Hyatt House at a special dinner meeting. Officers to be installed include Kay Logan, president; Ann Ingersoll, vice president; Ginger McClain, recording secretary; Nellie Long, corresponding secretary, and Florence Hopman, treasurer.

Coming up the following week are several important events on their social calendar — a buffet dinner-dance and luncheon-fashion show to be held at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in connection with the 44th annual district convention of the Lions.

Our community leader this week is a long-time resident of Colma and has given many volunteer hours to community organizations.

We salute Kay Logan as our community leader of the week. She is taking over as the new president of the Lioness Club. She served as vice president last year and with her husband, Ray (who is an official delegate), attended the Lions International convention held in Nice, France.

In addition to her work with the Lioness Club, she was a charter committee chairman of the John L. Snell PTA, worked actively with the Girl Scouts and has assisted in all local community drives.

Local residents for 16 years, the Logans, husband Ray and daughter Judy live at 15 Castillejo drive in St. Francis Heights.

Calling all graduates of Jefferson High School, class of '53! Been wondering what has happened to some of your classmates? You'll find out if you plan to attend the coming class reunion and dinner dance to be held at Moore's Prime Rib House in Belmont on February 9.

Reservations are coming in very fast, so it promises to be a gala and fun evening for the Jefferson graduates of that year. Telephone JU 8-0217 for more information.

FASHION NOTES: Knits are going to be high fashion this spring and they are now available in a wide range of clothes from tops with shorts and capris to suits that pack like a dream.

The popular shift is so practical, too, in a knit and a perfect cruise fashion. Matching overblouses and skirts are fashion favorites. Accessories with a gaily printed scarf or your favorite jewelry.

Toss a striped knit jacket over your favorite sweater and skirt and presto you have a casual ensemble that is perfect for an afternoon in the country or a Sunday automobile ride.

SOCIAL WHIRL: It was a gala and most successful New Year's Eve party for friends, an annual affair hosted by the Ray Sullivans, even though Barbara had a cast on her foot.

Bound to be conversation pieces are the prizes at the coming whist party to be held at Holy Angels Parish Hall. Winners will receive canned goods all cleverly hand decorated with saucy faces and other trim done by guild members. The affair will be held on January 17 at 12:30 p.m. There will be other games as well as whist. Coffee and cake will be served.

NEWS BRIEFS: Among college students home for the holidays was Alan Hanley who visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. Hanley. Alan is attending the University of California at Davis.

Holiday dinner guests of the Bob Weckerles were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mamer of San Clement, their daughter and son-in-law the Roy Cavanaughs of Westlake and Mrs. Ellis H. Porter of San Francisco.

It was a trip to Seattle and Longview, Washington for Hank, Jean and Chuck Sunderman who attended the wedding of Jean's nephew, George Smith. A vacation at Zephyr Point for Garden Village's Shirley and Petey Pappas and two sons, Kim and Tim.

Also visiting at Tahoe were the Deb Youngs, who stayed at Crystal Bay.

Scheduled for an appearance on January 10 at Alto Loma Junior High School is the Daly City Belle Tones sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department and the South San Francisco Adult Women's choral class. The special 30 voice chorus will be directed by Patti Stolz.

January 20 is the date of the annual parish meeting of St. Martin's Episcopal Church when election of Bishop Committee members will be held.

The Westlake Catholic Women will receive the profits (which will go to their building fund) from a donut sale to be held on January 15 at Hunt's Donut Shop in Westlake.

YWCA committee members met last Friday morning in Westlake Bowl to make plans for the coming gift and bridge luncheon presented in cooperation with Richters Interiors on Feb. 7. Ann Johnson is chairman.

We are interested in all your coming social events, parties, weddings, house guests. Write Feminine Viewpoint, Westlake Times, 3317 San Jose Ave., Daly City.

Newlywed Flanartys To Make Their Home In Hawaii

By Bunny Gillespie

Five feminine attendants, identically gowned in full-length sheaths of fire engine red brocade, preceded Bonnie Lee Robin to the altar of Our Lady of Mercy Catholic Church in Westlake as she became the bride of John Peter Flaharty, Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robin of 280 Westbrook, Daly City. Her grandfather is Edward Arata of Hayward.

Her husband, who holds the rank of first lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps, is the son of the senior John Flaharty of 55 Chumasaro in San Francisco.

John is currently stationed in Hawaii and it is to that destination that the newlyweds departed by air several days after returning from a brief honeymoon at the Ahwanee Hotel in Yosemite National Park.

Bonnie, who is a graduate of Westmoor High School's class of 1961, continued her education at San Jose State College as a criminology major. Her husband attended Rio-Ord High School and was graduated from there in 1956.

Later he studied at the University of San Francisco but was graduated in pre-law from San Francisco State College in 1960. He is a member of the Parachute Club of America.

For her late December wedding date, Bonnie donned a floor-length gown of egg-shell brocade and peau-de-soie. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a single Dior rose. The bride's carrying piece was a cascade of white antherium, typical of the Pacific islands where she and her bridegroom will be living for the next 2½ years.

Mrs. William (Jackie) Rowan of Daly City served as matron of honor at the high nuptial mass and Lana Green of Daly City was the maid of honor. Lana held the title of Miss San Francisco during 1961.

Serving as bridesmaids for Bonnie were Sandy Stevens and Irene McGlynn, with eight-year-old Georganne McLaughlin standing as junior bridesmaid.

The attendants' cheery scarlet gowns were accented as they carried furry white muffs centered with green holly and red antherium. Similarly dressed, but carrying a basket containing holly and antherium, was little Geraldyn McLaughlin who filled the role of flower girl. Her 3-year-old brother, Greg McLaughlin, just half her age, served as ring bearer.

For his wedding, John asked his brother, Patrick, to serve as best man and his other brother, Jim, to be a member of the masculine contingent in charge of seating guests. Also ushering were Robert Marron and James Knight, who had attended high school and college with the bridegroom.

The Rev. James J. Barry of Our Lady of the Pillar Catholic Church in Half Moon Bay, and a friend of the new Mrs. Flaharty, officiated at the service.

After the ceremony, the newlyweds greeted friends at a reception held in the Officers' Club at Hunters Point.

MRS. PAUL NEAGLE is chairman of the 9th annual fashion show and luncheon of the Westlake Catholic Women of Our Lady of Mercy parish. The show, featuring the theme "La Vie En Rose," will be held on February 9, in the grand ballroom of the Fairmont Towers. Fashions will be presented by H. Liebes.

Ingleside Homes Group To Install

The first 1963 meeting of the Ingleside Terraces Home Association will be held tomorrow at the home of N. Harris Ade, president, at 95 Cerritos avenue, at 8 p.m.

While many matters of importance to the residents of the Terraces will be discussed, the first order of business will be the election of officers for 1963. Newly elected directors will also be installed. They are: N. Harris Ade, Jesse M. Markel, Harold J. Scott and Mrs. Betty Carman, all elected for a three year term; Charles Parson, a two year term; and Christopher D. Malamis, a one year term.

The officers and directors for 1962 thank all homeowners in the Terraces for their support and urge them to continue it in the new year by joining the Association and attending the monthly meetings.

The Association also urged all residents not to park their autos on the streets on Friday, sweeping days.

Program Aids Offered By California League For Handicapped

Program chairmen interested in obtaining an informative and stimulating speaker are invited to schedule a talk and/or slides showing handicapped children enjoying the "normal" pleasures of childhood shared with non-handicapped boys and girls, in town and at camp.

The program also highlights new horizons for handicapped children achieved through instruction in self-care — posture, grooming, walking, use of tools, etc.

Speakers are supplied either directly through California League for the Handicapped, PR 6-3022, or affiliates of the Dale Carnegie Alumnae, which has chapters in the major cities of the Bay Area.

Two such programs were scheduled for Alpha Delta Gamma on Tuesday, Jan. 8, at the home of Mrs. James Whitaker, of Burlingame drive, San Francisco, and Jan. 15 for the San Mateo Senior Citizens, Presbyterian Church, 25th ave. Chairman for next Tuesday's meet is Mrs. Percy E. Lenfesty, of San Mateo.

YWCA Schedules Beauty Classes

A new class in "Makeup and Skin Care" will be offered by the North San Mateo County YWCA on six successive Wednesday evenings starting tonight. This course will be taught by professional San Francisco model and charm instructor Diane Darnell at the Westlake Bowl in the Westlake Shopping Center from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The fee for six weeks is $7, and students may register at the first or second class.

"Makeup and Skin Care" will be a complete course designed to show each woman how to look her best. The proper method of shaping eyebrows and lip line will be shown individually. These alone, according to Miss Darnell, when done correctly can re-shape the entire face. Each student will learn what color foundation, rouge and powder to use. Eye makeup and the difference between makeup for day and evening will be included. Skin care will be explained according to individual skin types and problems will be analyzed and discussed.

Following this six week course, Miss Darnell will offer the sequel, "Social Graces, Speech and Visual Poise." These courses together will constitute a virtually complete charm course for the homemaker and the employed girl.

Further details may be obtained from the Y Office, 375 South Mayfair, PL 6-7370. Office hours of the Y are Monday through Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Friday from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Frank Burns, rummage sale chairman, encourages all to bring their rummage in early, so that the committee may begin sorting the thousands of items.

Hostesses for the evening will be the Misses Thomas Calderola, Albert Fambri, Peter Busalacchi, Charles Blagdon and Frank Kelly.

Does The Bay Area's Most Decorative Lady Live In Your House?

The producers of the forthcoming Decorators and Hi Fi Show are busily searching for the Bay Area's "Most Decorative Woman," who will reign over the five-day exposition beginning March 6.

How decorative is "decorative?" According to the dictionary, to be decorative is to be "garnished; adorned; ornamental; decked with additions."

According to show producer James Logan, however, it means simply that any young lady, married or unmarried, between the ages of 17 and 25, whose "symmetrical applications conform to the modern day trend in design interiors," is eligible to participate.

Or to put it more lucidly, if the young lady has a delightful figure, charming personality and is lovely to look at, she definitely has a good chance of being named the Bay Area's "most decorative woman."

In addition to being queen of the five-day Decorator and Hi Fi Show, the winner will receive numerous prizes, including an all-expense trip to Hollywood.

Entries are now being accepted by the show's producers and must be accompanied by a photograph and brief description of the applicant, including address, city, and her telephone number. Mail to Decorator and Hi Fi Show, 456 Fulton street, San Francisco. The deadline is January 31.

Young Christian Workers Dance

San Francisco's reputation as the "city with the international air" will carry special meaning on January 12, date of the sixth annual International Ball, to be held at the Village, 901 Columbus Avenue, San Francisco, by the Bay Area Young Christian Workers.

Music for dancing on the international theme will be played by Rick Flores and his orchestra from 9:30 to 1 a.m. The evening will also include a program of international entertainment by local groups in native costumes, as well as the coronation of an "International Queen."

Ladies Day With The YWCA Brings New Class Concept

A new concept in class scheduling has been announced by the North San Mateo County YWCA for the six weeks session starting today.

Called "Ladies Day with the YWCA," this is a new kind of class program for homemakers.

Four separate and varied classes, which will share nursery service, will be held on Wednesday mornings between 9:30 and noon at the War Memorial Building in Daly City. The hours are arranged so that the individual may choose to take one or two courses which suit her particular needs. Detailed information and directions may be obtained at the Y Office, 375 South Mayfair, PL 6-7370.

A knitting class for all from absolute beginners to experienced knitters who wish to experiment will be given from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. The teacher, Mrs. Shirley Steigerwald, will give personal instruction to each member of the class. The fee for this is $4 for six weeks. All fees include nursery service under expert supervision.

Instruction in bridge will be offered from 10:30 to noon in the same building. This class is for beginning and intermediate players and will prepare students to join the ongoing YWCA bridge club which also meets at the War Memorial Building on Wednesday mornings. The instructor is Pat Smith, and this is a continuing class with room for new participants. The fee is $7.

A new class in alterations and mending has been added to the "Ladies Day" schedule. Instructor Virginia Cavanis will show how to keep the family wardrobe in perfect order. Efficient methods of shortening and lengthening hems, replacing zippers, patching and properly sewing on buttons will be demonstrated. Individual problems will be tackled. The fee for this class is $4.

Short story writing will be the subject of the fourth class offered on Wednesday mornings. Set for 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., the course is designed to teach the student the commercial techniques required by today's publishers in both magazine and television fields. The class will cover writing techniques and specific commercial techniques such as slanting for a particular market, requirements of the television writer and practical methods of marketing the finished story. Instructor Peg Penoyer has worked on a New York magazine, done radio continuity writing, and has had stories appear both in magazines and on television. Individual criticism will be offered. The fee for the class is $7.

Members of all these classes, besides sharing the nursery service for pre-school children, will enjoy a joint social coffee break in order to meet each other and learn what other classes are doing. According to Y director Pat Martinez, the modern War Memorial Building is ideally planned for this kind of multipurpose programming. "I hope the interesting courses offered, the free nursery service, and the modest class fees will attract homemakers to this new 'Ladies Day with the YWCA,'" she said.

Cal Colleges Top Nation in Grants

Senator Clair Engle (Dem.-Calif.) announced last week that California colleges, universities, students and professors received a total of 25 million dollars from the National Science Foundation in 1962.

"This is more funds than any other state received," the senator said. "The fact that California plays so important a role in the National Science Foundation program indicates that the United States — to an ever-increasing degree — relies on California for scientific leadership."

The National Science Foundation, an agency of the federal government, was established in 1950 to advance scientific progress in the U.S. by sponsoring research, furthering science education and recommending policies with respect to the federal government's role in strengthening science.

The foundation does not itself conduct research or carry out educational projects. Senator Engle said that California colleges and universities received 123 grants totaling $4,069,880 in support of science education in 1962 from the foundation.

MOVING SIDEWALKS similar to those proposed for installation in the passenger terminal of Stapleton Field in Denver already in operation in many cities. Eight of the Stephens - Adamson "Speed-walk" units serve as moving sidewalks in downtown Tacoma, Wash. The upper photo shows one of these up-and-down pairs in operation. At the Century 21 Exposition in Seattle, millions of persons rode the units shown in the lower photo. They carry passengers between the street level and the elevated monorail station.

Moving Sidewalks Proposed For S.F.'s International Airport

Moving sidewalks have been proposed for the finger concourses at San Francisco's International Airport passenger terminal.

They would eliminate in San Francisco what has become one of the greatest causes of jet age airplane passenger complaints, the long walk between plane loading and unloading gates and main lobby areas. At some airports this can amount to a trek of nearly a mile for persons transferring from one line to another.

Officials of several airlines serving the Bay Area have indicated their interest in moving sidewalk installations here. Together with airport commission members and engineers, they currently are studying the proposals.

Preliminary plans for installation of "Speedwalk" units in the finger concourses have been drawn by Stephens-Adamson Mfg. Co., pioneer developer and manufacturer of moving walks. According to these plans, the walks would extend in pairs the length of a concourse. One walk would transport passengers from the main terminal to the gates while the other, running in the opposite direction, would carry them from the gates to the terminal.

Nearly 100 moving walks and ramps of the type proposed for San Francisco are in operation throughout the country. Only airport to have them is Akron-Canton in Ohio. There, four inclined "Speedwalk" units in the new terminal building carry patrons between the entrance lobby, the passenger service, restaurant, and shop level, and the concourses leading to plane gates.

Largest installation of moving sidewalks is in downtown Tacoma, Wash. Eight units operating in up-and-down pairs carry pedestrians between the banking and commercial section of the city and the department store and retail shopping area two blocks "up the hill."

Tacoma's moving walks were financed by a voter-approved $875,000 bond issue and went into operation 18 months ago. Since that time, city officials report, pedestrian traffic in downtown Tacoma has increased 40 per cent with a corresponding improvement in business volume. Plans now are being studied for extending the system five more blocks to service the city-county buildings and parking lots further up the hill.

Millions of persons got a first-hand look at inclined walks this past year at Seattle's Century 21 Exposition. There, four units carried Monorail passengers between the street level and the elevated station platform in downtown Seattle. This installation now is part of the city's rapid transit system.

Other installations are in shopping centers, department stores, sports arenas, amusement parks, and transportation terminals. Since the first installation was made about 11 years ago, nearly 100 million persons have ridden the moving walks with complete comfort, safety and convenience.

Essentially, moving walks are flat belt conveyors supported by stainless steel slider belts. Belts, have grooved surfaces designed to meet the requirements of this high fashion, spike-heel era. Their speed is about 100 feet per minute.

At San Francisco Airport, they probably would be installed down the center of the finger concourses with room left on either side for persons who prefer to walk. Because they are flat, the walks also could be used to carry baggage and will accommodate strollers, baby carriages and wheel chairs.

Officials of several other airports in addition to San Francisco also are considering installation of moving walks in finger concourses. These include Denver, Seattle-Tacoma, and Chicago.

Crocker-Anglo Breaks Records

Crocker - Anglo National Bank broke all records in 1962 in earnings as well as in total deposits, assets, loans and capital funds, according to year-end figures released by Chairman of the Board Paul E. Hoover, the bank's chief executive officer.

Despite higher savings interest payments, which amounted to $9,414,641 more than in 1961, and the costs of the bank's extensive expansion program, Crocker-Anglo's 1962 net operating income after taxes totaled $16,488,693, as compared with the 1971 figure of $16,456,684. These results are equal to $2.50 per share for 1962, computed on the 6,599,395 shares outstanding at the end of 1962. In 1961, net income per share, based on shares outstanding at year-end, was $2.49.

San Mateo Heart Association Recommends Regular Exercise

The San Mateo Heart Association urged adoption of the following New Year's resolution:

"Resolved, that in 1963, I will get the regular exercise needed to improve my health."

The association recommended a common sense approach to exercise, as follows:

"1. Select a form of exercise that is compatible with your age and your physical condition."

"2. Choose the exercise you like. If you approach the subject of exercise with a grim and Spartan attitude, you're bound to fall by the wayside in a short time. The idea is to fit physical exercise (whether outdoor hiking or home calisthenics) into your daily routine and then add some weekly activities like bowling, roller-skating, swimming, tennis, golf or other in-season sports."

"3. Once you've worked out a reasonable schedule, try hard to let nothing interfere with it."

"4. Be prudent. If you haven't had much exercise since you left school, don't try to start where you left off. If your age and physical condition warrant a return to strenuous activities, work up to these exertions gradually by daily moderate exercise."

"5. Do more walking and less riding. Unless the distance is too great, walk to work and walk when you go shopping."

"6. Before you begin your exercise routine, check with your doctor to see whether some forms of exercise should be avoided."

"7. Finally, try that most difficult form of exercise, pushing yourself away from the table to avoid obesity."

Aliens Must Register Now

Ralph H. Holton, district director of the San Francisco Immigration and Naturalization Service, has again reminded all aliens to report their addresses during January.

Cards with which to make the reports are available at Post Offices and Offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service throughout the country. The reports must be submitted to one of those offices.

Parents or guardians submit reports for alien children under 14 years of age.

Mr. Holton urges all aliens to report before the end of January, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious penalties.

The nation's eleventh largest bank has total assets of $2,281,228,716, a gain of $237,299,638 over last year's record high of $2,043,929,078.

Increases of $181,337,876 in time and savings deposits and $47,973,547 in demand deposits brought total deposits to a peak of $2,941,295,037. Last year's total was $2,711,983,914.

Increased activity in loan categories, especially real estate loans, raised loans outstanding at the year-end to $1,682,665,821, as compared with $1,460,638,837 a year ago.

'Q' Chaplain To Speak At Good News Chapel

Rev. Tod W. Ewald, San Quentin chaplain and for 17 years rector of Holy Innocents Episcopal parish in Corte Madera, will describe what he terms his "personal Pentecost" and the "present-day outpouring of the Holy Spirit in the churches and universities of America" at Good News Chapel in South San Francisco Tuesday evening, January 15. Time of the service is 7:30 o'clock.

According to an announcement by Good News Chapel pastor, Rev. D. P. Wertz, "Father Ewald will testify to the great change in his own life and in the lives of many others in his parish as the result of a recent infilling of the Holy Spirit, and tell of the same experience over a broad front among historic churches and on the college campuses of the nation. He will report that in southern California there are more than 2,000 Episcopalians who have received the Holy Spirit, with evidence of speaking in tongues."

This special service has been set for Tuesday so that members of other churches who would normally attend prayer meetings on Wednesday evening may have the opportunity of hearing Father Ewald. The public is cordially invited.

One of the phases of its Epiphany service at Hope Lutheran Church, 55 San Fernando Way, Daly City, at 11 a.m., January 6, was the installation of church officers elected at the quarterly meeting of the Voters' Assembly held on November 9, 1962.

Hi-Fi Teen Club Executive Council Discusses Activities and By-Laws

Members of the Hi-Fi Teen Club's executive council met Saturday, January 5, in a planning workshop at the Lincoln Park Clubhouse. Under the direction of council chairman Ray Marshall and club advisor Ron Madariga, council members discussed two major areas: 1, program and activities, and 2, a revised constitution and by-laws.

The latter area was discussed in the morning session by four small groups, each handling a different phase of the constitution and by-laws. Jefferson junior, Frances Taborsky, was chairman of the committee discussing rules and regulations. Her committee consisted of David Vogt, Ray Marshall, Chris Davis and Joyce Gagero. The committee on membership and guests was composed of Elfe Dahme, Ray Archuleta, Chuck Spencer and Cecie Murriah, chairman. Riordan High freshman Bob Vogt and his committee, Toni Nemis, Joann Doyle and Gail Wyman, discussed officers and their election, and the committee chaired by Judith Reed and composed of Harriet Featherstone, Rich Day and Susan Friere discussed the role of the committee. Final adoption of new rules and a revised constitution will be completed at a later date.

After the lunch break, program chairman Toni Nemis led her group in a discussion of activities for the regular Wednesday night meetings of the club. Joyce Gagero chaired the committee that planned and suggested ideas for club special events and executive council activities. As a result of these two groups' ideas, a formal calendar of events will be developed by the program committee and distributed to all club members.

Decorator And Hi-Fi Show

Teen a Cappella Contest

Young voices will ring throughout the San Francisco Cow Palace during the first three days of the Annual San Francisco Bay Area Decorators and Hi-Fi Show, March 6-10, when groups of senior and junior high students gather for a cappella choral competitions.

"In order to further stimulate interest in fine music," James Logan, producer of the show, announced today the Decorators and Hi-Fi Show is sponsoring a contest for Bay Area senior and junior high school a cappella groups in conjunction with the show's $3 million high fidelity and stereo exhibit.

Any group of senior and junior high school students that sings without accompaniment may enter the competition.

Candidates Invited

Colma Jr. Teen Party

Over 60 prospective candidates for the executive council of the three newly formed Colma Junior High School teen clubs have been invited to attend an informal party Saturday night at the War Memorial Community Center. Each of the three representative clubs was allowed to nominate 20 members each for this important meeting. Ten candidates were nominated by the club members while the other ten were nominated by the club's advisers.

This selection night program under the sponsorship of the Daly City Recreation Department is designed to select nine members for each club's executive council. These new officers will be responsible for the initial development and planning of their club. They will help in formulating their club rules and will plan all activities.

Participants will be judged on a number of points as a means of determining the best candidates. The club advisers and Alan Boyd, Supervisor of Youth Activities, will judge the candidates on the following points: Appropriate dress for the evening, personality, attitude, association with others, cooperativeness, manners, leadership, fellowship, follow through, imagination, creativity and initiative.

Activities during the evening will include: mixer games, party planning, active games and dancing. The names of those attending from each club with the club advisers listed in parenthesis are as follows: COLMA No. 1 (Al Owen and Mary Barnett) Madelyn Martinelli, Sue Theoleas, Judy Nolan, Sue Chiappari, Roy Sanguinetti, Ron Mini, Ron La Ross, Kathy Leshner, Kim Nobles, Louis Chandler, Steve Adams, John Kirby, Barbara Edgman, Cindy Baker, Jim Tiedge, Gary Bascacci, Pat Gondolfi, Alberta Ellis, Kevin Malone, John Vernazza; COLMA No. 2 (Doug Curless) names not available; COLMA No. 3 (John Williams and Virginia Owen) Mary Archuleta, Maureen Bianchini, John Goodin, Robyn Picchi, Wada Van Randau, Kathy Fields, Dan Laird, Carol Johnson, Sandra Torres, Bob Laudau, Joe Torres, Ron Runne, Jim Alexander, Cecil Baluta, Gus Valez, Vera Rendeiro, Sue Wong, Hayward Fontenot, Vesta Lee, Tony Schrock, Lynette Mudge.

The three junior high teen clubs newly formed from students at Colma Junior High School are continuing their progress through meetings every other Friday night. Membership in all three clubs is continually growing. Only one meeting is left, Friday, January 18, in the current membership drive so both club members and advisers are pushing hard to enroll as many new members as possible. Membership sales will be reopened after a two month period.

Happenings for the clubs include: COLMA No. 1 Club meeting at Jefferson Elementary School—Club Member John Vennazza entertained fellow members at the last meeting with vocal solos. The club members have narrowed the choice of a club name down to two and will select their name at their January 18 meeting. Both the club advisers and members are looking forward to the day they move into their permanent home, the Colma Jr. High multi-purpose room.

Location of the clubs will be the Westmoor Park Clubhouse, the Westlake Park Clubhouse, and the Daniel Webster and Ben Franklin Schools' multi-use rooms. Specific boundaries for each club are indicated on a map being distributed through Ben Franklin school to all students and their parents.

At a recent meeting at the school, Alan Boyd, Supervisor of Youth Activities, explained to the Ben Franklin student council all details for the program's beginning. Members of the council are in turn spreading the information and answering questions pertaining to the program to the entire student body.

Activities for each of these groups will include dances, game and party nights, roller skating outings, picnics, etc. Each club will be supervised by two members of the Recreation Department's staff and activities will be chaperoned by members' parents. Dimes March On January is March of Dimes Month, and this year it marks the 25th anniversary of one of the most successful benevolent ventures in our history. Begun as a crusade against polio, the March has contributed so greatly to research and care that it deserves a large share of the credit for today's almost complete victory over the once-terrible scourge. Now the March continues in other worthy directions, never overlooking, of course, those who must spend their lives in confinement and pain because polio crippled them before the nation's scientists and generous donors crippled it.

So let the Dimes march! Their destination is delivery from costly, cruel disease.

That's Where My Money Goes

Word from Sacramento that Pat Brown's new home—the projected new Governor's mansion—will probably cost at least $400,000 more than the original estimate, sent shudders through the wallets of California taxpayers. Some people even suggested that maybe we don't need such a lavish residence, despite the fact that the occupant will be chief executive of the nation's largest state.

The taxpayers' reaction was quite natural. And it brought to mind the letter received by an eastern newspaper recently... a letter of poignant protest over an expenditure of $3562 by Anthony Celebrezze, the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, on telegrams to every member of the House of Representatives urging support of some welfare bill the Secretary was interested in.

The correspondent mentioned in passing that he thought Mr. Celebrezze's action might possibly be illegal; but his main point was the painful realization that $3562 was almost to the penny the same amount as his—the correspondent's—federal income tax bill the previous April. As the writer said:

"In one afternoon, by one wanton and inexcusable piece of extravagance, Mr. Celebrezze squandered the whole of the tax I paid last year. The sum would cover two years of college education for my son; it would more than replace the six-year-old car I am driving; it would pay off a third of the mortgage on my house. It represented about three months of back-breaking work on my part. And in one afternoon it was gone."

What's that $400,000 for again? Pat?

News Is When It Happens

"The newspapers and others can do a better job of interpreting and presenting the news developments than any government controlled agency can." That statement did not come from a publisher or a reporter. It came from a man who knows government news control at first hand, Andrew Berding, former assistant secretary of state for public affairs, director of defense mobilization, and deputy director of the United States Information Agency.

Addressing the World Affairs Council in San Francisco, Berding took direct issue with the administration's program of "managed news," "news as part of our weaponry," and "leakmanship," the practice of giving certain favored newsmen advance information on key proposals.

Berding's is a welcome voice. Evidence mounts daily that the Kennedy administration considers news just another plaything to be used for political purposes. The filtering of the news of our marvelous Venus probe through a mess of political hogwash in Washington was as stupid as it would have been to have Queen Isabella report the details of the discovery of the New World. The suppression of known facts about Cuba gave no comfort or confidence to the people.

News, as the saying goes, is when it happens. If it is managed or suppressed or distorted for purposes other than information it is not news. Freedom of the press is not a private liberty for newspapers. It is a public freedom, and government must be its guardian, not its suppressor.

Something For Everyone

by Samuel Chandler

What is jazz?

A silly question, you say. Everybody knows what jazz is.

Who, for instance.

Thus begins Henry Pleasant's discussion of a type of music that has been called one of "America's prime contributions" to the world.

Mr. Pleasant concludes that no one knows exactly what jazz is... But nearly everyone agrees that it is "a new way of playing music, not a new music. In other words it's not what you play, but how you play it." "Jazz" he says "is more or less improvisational melody, the basic melodic material being the popular song."

This discussion may be found in "Jam Session," anthology of Jazz edited by Ralph J. Gleason. Among the chapter titles are "The Basis of Bop," "Portrait of a Hipster," "To Swing Is to Affirm," "Jazz Is Big Business," "Spirituals, Blues, and Jazz," "A Discourse on Jazz."

Another discussion of Jazz can be found in John A. Kouwenhoven's "Beer Can by the Highway." This critic of American life writes: "Jazz is a ten-

The View From Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

The Turn of the Cards...

The beat patrolman discovers a card game in progress, being conducted in the back room of a local business establishment.

Money is not present upon the table with the pasteboards, but poker chips are. The law states that, in most instances, people may not play for money or for other things of value. The officer believes that the chips do represent money, and is appropriately suspicious.

This uniformed officer is aware, however, that the gambling laws are not universally popular. These are mala ad prohibitum laws; this means they are wrong because the statute says that they are wrong. This is somewhat different from the mala in se laws, such as murder or rape, which would be wrong whether or not there existed any law so stipulating.

This uniformed officer is also aware that it is just such a law, difficult to enforce, largely not popular, that can cause the policeman and the department much embarrassment.

So he does not effect an arrest; also he does not accept the proffered cup of coffee—for coffee will lead to other things, and it is not unlikely that he would find himself beholden to the owners of the game and thus unable to properly perform this part of his duty.

He does, however, properly record the names of all those present. He then prepares to remove his presence, obviously unwelcome, from this "social" gathering. First, however, he speaks with the operator of the game.

John The Slovene...

The man's name is John, and he is known in some places as John the Slovene. He is gentlemanly and affable, and is clad in the uniform of his calling, tailored grey slacks, a Pendleton shirt, and a grey snap brim hat. He is rarely, if ever, seen hatless.

The Slovene represents that he and the boys are only having a friendly game. There is no gambling. Theirs are games of skill, such as low ball and draw. They would not think of playing those other gambling games, such as stud horse poker or black-jack.

The patrolman cautions the Slovene and leaves. He finishes his tour of his beat and then reports to his patrol sergeant.

The Visit...

Later that night the sergeant and the beat patrolman revisit the establishment. They nod hello to those present, and stand around with arms folded, professing noncommittal interest in the proceedings.

The men around the lamp-light table react in their own individual ways. Some are restless and mutter over their cards; some are quiet; some are friendly, and others snarl.

The officers watch for awhile and observe no law violations.

More Visits...

The sergeant makes the appropriate reports, and is hailed before the Captain the next day. The proper verbal report is made, and the Captain decides that this is a job that can be handled by the uniformed people. It is not a job, this time, that requires any secrecy—rather it is better handled directly in the manner in which has already been started.

So the two policemen make nightly visits to that place, more than once when other duties permit, and always unscheduled and at varied times.

They begin to know most of the players. The Slovene is always courteous and affable, following his initial, and during, presumably, his continued inner grumblings.

The visits are commonplace, later, and the players begin to expect the officers each night. Roundabout approaches are made to the officers as to "what can be done?" The answer: knock off the game.

Return Visit...

The Captain decides that it is time he and John had a talk. He asks the Sergeant to invite John to see him. The Sergeant and the beat patrolman wait outside of the establishment the next evening. A number of customers observe and do not enter.

John arrives and accepts the invitation. The three men journey to the Police Station and knock at the Captain's door. They are allowed to enter.

The Captain and the Slovene speak. The Captain explains the law. John knows the law. The Captain explains the local situation: no gambling, even by "games of skill," so called, and there are no licensed card rooms.

It is a bad law, claims John. Licensed card-rooms are all right.

Change the law, suggests the Captain. In the meantime, no cards. Why not leave town, the Captain suggests.

Good idea, agrees the Slovene.

And so John leaves town. No one is embarrassed. The job is done, the case is closed. But the officers are somewhat sorry to see John go. He seemed to be a really nice guy.

sion of cross purposes. In jazz each player seems to be, and has a sense of being, on his own. Each goes his own way, inventing rhythmic and melodic patterns which, superficially, seem to have little relevance to one another.

Perhaps the most momentous study of Jazz is the "New Encyclopedia of Jazz" by Leonard Feather. It contains a historical survey of Jazz, a chronology, biographies, criticisms, and articles by Duke Ellington, Benny Goodman, and John Hammond.

Because most of this book is an alphabetical encyclopedia it is a valuable reference tool and may be found on the reference shelves of the Public Library.

Another important work is David Ewen's "Complete Book of American Musical Theater." It is a guide to more than 200 productions of musical comedy. From these shows come many jazz themes.

Still another book is "Blues Fell This Morning" by Paul Oliver. This is a lusty history full of frank revelations and varied stories.

All of these books support Mr. Kouwenhoven's contention that Jazz is a prime American contribution to world culture.

top of the hill

By ARTEMUS BIERCE

We had occasion to dig the song stylings of Ray Charles, one of the musical giants in the realm of jazz, at the Masonic Temple last week.

The concert was a sell-out and the seats were priced quite severely.

As usual, Charles was great. We have viewed the artist at least a dozen times and never fail to come away impressed and pleased. But we couldn't help but look in retrospect and see how far Charles had come since we first saw him.

As we looked around the auditorium we saw a far different kind of crowd than when we first saw Ray Charles. This was a crowd of sophisticated ladies in mink and debonair gentlemen in their three hundred dollar Brooks Brothers suits.

The first time we saw Ray Charles was in 1956 at a place called Sweet's Ball Room, in Oakland. It was billed as a "rhythm and blues dance" and the door fee was a lowly two dollars.

That night we were the only Caucasians in the group. It was sort of a reverse color-line deal—with us slipping over to the other side.

Anyway, that night we enjoyed Ray Charles as we had never enjoyed an artist before and have never since. He moaned, cried, and wailed and played the blues for more than two hours of a four hour dance—and all for two dollars.

The poignant lyrics and lonely, heart-breaking sound of Charles' voice was almost too much to endure that night. The people danced, Ray sang, and we assimilated the whole gig like a person with four eyes and six ears. It was too much.

Actually, we first came in contact with Charles in 1952. Somehow or another, we got hold of a recording of a song called "Roll With Me Baby" by an obscure singer named Ray Charles. At that time his voice was somewhere Nat King Cole and Charles Brown, the latter a once-great R&B singer. We dug him the first time.

We told people about him, but they sort of frowned and admonished us for listening to low-brow trash.

Now the very same people are the ones who buy the top tickets to his concerts and tell every-

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Your Editorial entitled "Reverse Segregation" which appeared in your splendid paper of January 2, 1963, was excellent with but one exception.

Referring to the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution you state, "But its meaning was not made real until the passing and ratification of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution." "And unfortunately, in many areas of this nation, the 14th Amendment has not been made real." The struggle in the Southern States over integration is an example that neither the spirit nor the letter of the law is being obeyed.

I am a graduate of the School of Law of the University of Kansas City in the class of 1924. A member of that class is the recently retired Justice of the United States Supreme Court, Mr. Charles Evans Whittaker. Since Law School days I have held the opinion that the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution was unconstitutional for the reason of duress, and that it was not duly ratified by the States. Many Constitutional lawyers hold this view. As a lawyer having been a member of the legal profession for almost forty years, and a former U. S. Government attorney in San Francisco, I should know something about Constitutional law.

A splendid and scholarly article appeared in the Jackson Daily News, of Jackson, Mississippi which appeared in their publication of November 8th, 1962 should be of interest to all citizens. Our citizens should be encouraged to study and know about our wonderful Constitution and how it was put together!

Sincerely yours,
Albert V. Morris, LL.M.

dividend checks will be mailed in January. VA officials expect that 75 per cent of all dividend checks will be in the mail by mid-January.

Q—Understand income questionnaires forms were mailed but earlier this year to veterans and dependents of deceased veterans receiving pensions. Does this mean they have to be returned earlier?

A—The forms should be returned to the address in the upper right hand corner as soon as possible. However, the deadline remains January 31.

one how great Ray Charles is. He is the same artist that we tried to tell them about long ago.

So while all of the jazz buffs and disc jockies argue over who discovered Ray Charles first, you know the real truth. It was Artemus Bierce who first discovered the genius Ray Charles.

Amen and all that kind of soul-biff.

The "Meanest Teenagers of the Week" award must go to a group of youths which were roaming through Westlake Terrace on New Year's eve.

It seems that this group came by a house, eyed the fuse box, pulled the switch and then copped out with the master circuit breaker.

Inside the home a woman was plunged into darkness and the electric atomizer which was administering comfort and easy breathing to her small sick boy was silenced.

Only the quick thinking of a neighbor averted a New Year's eve tragedy. A borrowed circuit breaker restored power to the home, and fortunately the vaporizer started and the baby once again rested in comfort.

The employees of the City of Daly City must be taking President Kennedy's physical fitness proclamation to heart.

Several of the official employees were seen huffing and puffing up and down the gym floor during lunch time in the War Memorial gym in a basketball game. Especially very tired and beat-out looking were two fellows from the recreation department.

And at the same time, over on the other side of the gym, a group of noted San Francisco sports writers were trying in vain to regain some of their lost youth.

The whole scene was the perfect setting for a coronary—or several of them.

Inside information on why your PG&E bill is higher this time of year:

The season's the reason: When the temperature drops, you spend more time indoors... need more heat... keep lights burning longer... cook more hot meals... watch more television. That's why your PG&E bill is higher during the winter—but isn't it a comfort to know the price you pay for gas and electricity is 8% less than 30 years ago?

*Based on typical home use of gas and electricity.

Care At The Corners

You can't be too careful at the corners. With an ever greater number of motor vehicles taking to our streets and highways, intersections are becoming increasingly dangerous for the motorist.

Traffic authorities know this and have been doing what they can about the situation. They have put up warning signals, stop signals, traffic lights.

In spite of these safety devices, the responsibility for avoiding accidents at intersections still rests largely with the individual motorist. You just can't be too careful at the corners.

Kenneth L. Graham, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Graham of 285 Oakcrest ave., South San Francisco, Calif., Thomas T. Walker, yeoman third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walker of 407 Wildwood dr., South San Francisco, Calif., are scheduled to return to the continental carrier USS Bon Homme Richard after spending six months in the Far East.

The Bon Homme Richard spent Christmas in Buckner Bay, Okinawa.

The carrier operated as a unit of the Seventh Fleet, a major element of American seapower abroad. The ship is commanded by Captain R. P. Kline, USN.

On USS Ticonderoga
The following Navyman: Michael E. Weddle, fireman apprentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Weddle of 1461 Southgate ave., Daly City, and Fred L. Clark, fireman apprentice, son of Mrs. N. G. Clark of 200 Park Plaza, both of Daly City are serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ticonderoga, part of the combined First Fleet force involved in Exercise Night Stick off the coast of California.

The exercise in anti-submarine and anti-air warfare techniques began Dec. 10, and lasted five days.

Eighteen ships and several aircraft units were involved in Exercise Night Stick, which was coordinated by Vice Admiral R. T. S. Keith, Commander First Fleet. The ships included aircraft carriers, a heavy cruiser, a nuclear submarine, 11 destroyers, a minesweeper, and three auxiliary ships.

The exercise was aimed at maintaining the overall readiness of the units involved and to develop their preparedness for duty in the Western Pacific with the Seventh Fleet. The operation centered around a fast carrier striking force supported by anti-submarine warfare group. They were opposed by aircraft and submarines. The aircraft used included jets and propeller-driven ranging in size up to medium bombers.

HISTORICAL NOTE

Technologists can read the history of a region by studying the growth rings of a tree, which make the wonderful grain and texture when the tree is cut. Drought, heavy rains, storms, fires—all are recorded in the rings of the tree.

EASY TO WORK

Most popular of all hobbies is woodworking because wood is easily worked with simple tools and by inexperienced men and boys. The joy of creation is the more readily achieved when working with wood.

DINING AND DANCING

TV and RADIO

By Mona Baker

What's in store for educational television for the new year ahead? Several important strides were made during the past year that will have tremendous impact on educational television in the new year.

During the past session of Congress funds were authorized for the development of educational channels across the country. However an appropriation bill was not passed so when the new Congress convenes this week, a new appropriation bill is expected to be introduced.

The new organization will be part of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Federal funds will be granted to match state and local funds for ETV projects.

Another important stride is the grant by the Ford Foundation of $4.7 million to assist in the distribution of National Educational Network television programs throughout the world.

Both developments made during the past years are bound to have an important influence on the future progress of educational television which has been so stymied during the past because of continuing lack of funds.

So now NET's excellent programs are reaching out in to the world. KQED has produced many series for the educational network, so more than likely, some of their programs will be sent world wide.

Television is an important force for peace and what better way to let other nations know about America and her people than through some of the nation's outstanding television series.

NEWS BRIEFS: Good news from KPIX program department is that Channel Five's "Salute to High Schools" around the Bay Area will resume very soon and will be a feature of Dick Stuart's Saturday dance party.

Two important coming programs scheduled for "Science in Action" (KRON-TV, Mon. 7 p.m.) with Westlake resident Dr. Earl S. Herald include "Operational Gyroscopes" (Jan. 14) and "Zookeeping" (Jan. 21).

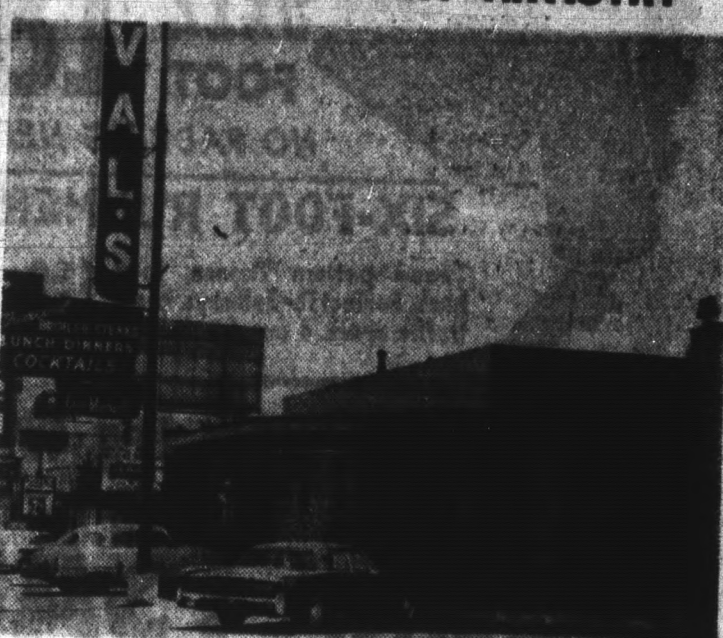

KGO-TV announces a new "Party in the Morning" (Mon. through Friday) program schedule directed primarily to the ladies. A special local "party quiz" will be conducted with names drawn from cards submitted by viewers. The person will be called to the telephone, asked a question, and if answered correctly will receive a merchandise prize.

We have a question for KGO. Just when will most ladies have time to watch in the morning? We think such a program set-up would be more successful in the afternoon.

FLASH: A spectacular large birthday cake from Westlake Bakery and quite unique in the form of a Mexican hat was a surprise to host Al Collins on his show over KGO-TV last Friday in celebration of his birthday. Making the presentation on the program were Arthur, the bakery's decorating expert and owner Andy Andersen.
